

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

Established March 4, 1885, and Made Famous in the Celebrated Story of "Jonathan and His Continent," by Max O'Rell.

SPENCER COOPER, Owner and Editor.

"Of a Soley World, With News From All Nations Lumbering at His Back."

$1.00 A YEAR, Always in Advance.

TENTH YEAR.

HAZEL GREEN, WOLFE COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1894.

NUMBER 6.

A BIG DROP.

When you come to Lexington drop in and see us, and we will show you the biggest stock of

CLOTHING.

Hats and Furnishings for Men and Boys—Wholesale and Retail—you ever saw.

If you can't come write to us and tell us what you want.

Men's Suits from $5 up.

Boys' Suits from $1.25 up.

You will make more than your expenses, though, if you come in person and make your selections.

ONE PRICE CLOTHING HOUSE.

M. KAUFMAN & CO.

54 E. Main Street,

LEXINGTON, KY.

MERCHANTS' JOB LOT HOUSE.

WHOLESALE ONLY.

137 and 139 Race Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Big Drives in

CLOTHING, SHOS, HATS, ETC.

Send for our Price List.

H. & G. FEDER, PRICES

165 & 167 Race Street, CINCINNATI, O.

The leading house for FANCY DRY GOODS, FURNISHING GOODS and NOTIONS. Always have Big Drives. Special attention to Mail Orders.

Clark County National Bank

MAIN STREET, WINCHESTER, KY.

JOHN W. DEAN, President.

B. F. CURTIS, Cashier.

Capital, $200,000. Surplus, $100,000. Undivided Profits, $35,000.

Organized 1885, being the oldest bank in the county. Collections made on all points, and your business solicited.

Clay City National Bank,

CLAY CITY, KY.

Capital, $50,000.

FLOYD DAY, President.

J. F. COX, Cashier.

No Bank in Eastern Kentucky has better vaults, nor better facilities for keeping your account. Managed entirely by home people who know you and who are always ready to accommodate you.

Money to loan on reasonable rates, call on us.

TRADERS DEPOSIT BANK,

MT. STERLING, KY.

CAPITAL, $200,000. SURPLUS, $30,000.

J. M. HIGSTAFF, President.

G. L. KIRKPATRICK, Vice President.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

We respectfully solicit the business of merchants, farmers, traders and business men generally throughout Eastern Kentucky. A general banking business done. Give us a chance to send you a bank book, your checks, and loan you money when in need.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

Winchester Bank,

WINCHESTER, KY.

N. H. WITHERSPOON, President.

R. D. HUNTER, Cashier.

Paid up Capital, $200,000.00. Surplus, $60,000.00.

This Bank solicits the accounts of merchants, farmers, traders and business men generally throughout Eastern Kentucky, and offers its customers every facility, and the most liberal terms within the limits of legitimate banking.

VICTOR + BOGAERT,

Manufacturing Jeweler.

17 E. Short Street,

LEXINGTON, KY.

Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry. Reliable Goods. Fair Dealing and Bottom Prices. All Goods and Work Guaranteed.

Giving Herself Away.

She stood beside the platform scale, Her lover by her side, Her dimpled hand she placed in his, Her murmured: "Be my bride."

With downcast eye and faltering voice Love's summons to obey, She dropped a nickel in the slot And gave herself a WENCH.

WHAT IS HILL?

He Trims His Sails For Every Wind That Blows.

Savoyard Puts Him in the School of Which Van Buren and Wheel Were Leaders.

It would be well enough for the Hon. David B. Hill, the Democrat, or rather the ex-Democrat, to take an observation and ascertain just where he is "at." When a Democratic statesman makes a great speech on the leading political issue of the day, and that speech is most rapturously applauded by Republicans, and most severely censured by all his fellow-Democrats, we begin to ask, What sort of freak is this? Those Republicans who advocated Democratic principles and supported Democratic candidates in 1884 were called mugwumps, and it would be well enough for the lexiconographers to set about the coining of a name for those Democrats who advocate Republican doctrine in 1894. David B. Hill belongs to that school of New York politics founded by Aaron Burr, and of which Martin Van Buren, the Democrat, and Thurlow Weed, the Whig, were the most conspicuous exemplars. He is a Talleyrand, not a Bismarck. He is the practical politician, who trims his sails for every wind that blows.

It almost required a surgical operation to get his silver vases out of him, such views as they were, and a poor lot they were. What little he knows about the tariff is of the Randolph order. He is that political monstrosity, a Democrat who believes in paternalism. Nine Democrats out of every ten object to the Wilson bill because it contains too much protection. Hill objects to it because it contains too little protection.

As for the income tax, the soundest of Democrats are disagreed both as to its expediency and its orthodoxy. If I were to make a revenue bill, I should not have an income tax in it except in very modified form. But there is an overwhelming sentiment in Democratic communities, even at the east, in favor of the income tax. I don't believe it is "good politics." I do believe its operation will be unpopular, even in communities that are now unusually for it. Wiser men than I, though, think the income tax a matter stroke of policy, and they may be right. There ought to be some sort of tax of that nature, however; but it ought to be a tax on franchises and inheritances. The Hon. Uriel S. Hall, of Missouri, a practical farmer and a cultured versatile statesman, spoke as follows on this subject in the house of representatives: "Coming down to the question of principle, can you ever perfect a revenue tariff in any government without an income tax? My able colleague from Missouri (Mr. Tarnsey) dwelt in some measure upon this matter. I notice in the Washington Post of this morning an extract from the New York Sun, in which that organ denounces the income tax for the reason that the revenue from the income tax law in England had varied during a period of twenty years; this writer cites the fact that during this period the rates of taxation varied from sixteen pence on the pound to two pence, the revenue derived by the government varying from 5,000,000 pounds to 17,000,000 pounds. I quote the article merely from memory. Now, I say that this flexibility of the income tax is one of the greatest arguments in its favor. I do not believe that any party on earth, that any man who is a patriot, wants to see the business interests of this country hampered and the obligation of contracts impaired by changes in the tariff every two or four years. "I asked an eminent member of the ways and means committee whether he could even in theory conceive of a tax which would give a proper revenue for 1893 and 1894, which would not produce a surplus of at least twenty-five millions in 1897 and 1898. He answered, as every student of that subject must answer: 'No.' Without an income tax the only method at your command for producing the proper flexibility of revenue to meet the flexible demands of the government, without disturbing the business interests of the country, is to change your tariff schedule every two years. I am not one of those who believe that the present business depression is due to threatened tariff legislation, but rather that with a view to the present tariff legislation forced upon the people with increasing and ever growing burdens until its final culmination in the McKinley act of 1890, which has brought around with marked severity the present financial crisis under which we are now suffering.

"I believe that tariff legislation or threatened tariff legislation must always have some tendency to impair the obligation of contracts, to disconcert business, to bring about business distress. And I believe that no party that has at heart the real interest of the country can afford to do this. We will change the tariff legislation of the government every two years, and thereby run the risk of impairing the obligation of contracts and disturbing business interests."

"By this kind of a tax, a tax upon incomes, the English government was enabled to pass through the Crimean war; and the man who wrote that article in the New York Sun did not say it was during that war, but the dates show it. And the fact that the rate varied from 16d. to the pound to 7d. to the pound, and 4d. to the pound and down to 2d. to the pound showed what it showed the English was enabled, by increasing the income tax, to pass through the Crimean war with very little disturbance of the taxing system of the government from the internal revenue or from the tariff taxation; and they were able, when the crisis passed, to bring it down, and bring nothing but good will and gratitude from all classes of the people."

There is much in the argument that an income tax is more inquisitorial than other taxes. We all remember the Tilden case. A corporation tax, and inheritance tax is far less inquisitorial and such a tax should be levied in order to avoid periods of surplus and of deficits in the treasury. But for good or for ill we are going to have the income tax. Hill assails it because it is in a bill that he thinks has too much free trade in it. There is the secret of his hostility. That is all he knows about the income tax being American. There is a modified income tax in New York now. Why did Hill not have that repealed when he was the boss of the state?

A little over two years ago Mr. Hill made a blunder. He held a "snap" convention. A few days later there was a mutter that came up from the country. Soon it became a growl, then a roar, then it increased to the volume of reverberating thunder, and finally it was tremendous enough to silence all the bombards of Sebastopol. Perhaps Mr. Hill is repeating himself. His speech was carefully prepared; it was deliberate; but its motive was so transparent that it did no execution except in the recoil. He began with an attack on Greham—who is sound on the tariff question at any rate, and the best hater man on the part of monopolistic corporations in the

WHEN IN LEXINGTON

VISIT MARCH'S,

24 W. Main Street,

FOR

Furniture,

CARPETS

AND STOVES.

MONEY SAVED

ON

EVERY ARTICLE.

American Union. One would infer that Hill never appointed a Republican to office in his life; but I read in a New York paper the other day a list of distinguished and leading Republicans appointed to office by Hill, while he was governor. There are a set of men in New York known as "Hill Republicans." Low Sessions, who played such a miserable part against Roscoe Conkling in 1881, is one of them. No wonder Hill puts himself at the head of the Republicans and leads a charge against the confirmation of a justice of the supreme court because the gentleman nominated had declined in a public speech that the McKinley law was not only inexpedient, but unconstitutional.

The states' rights part of Senator Hill's speech was admirable as a political essay. But its conclusions were all wrong. To say that it is hereby for congress to levy a tax on the rich for the exclusive purpose of securing revenue to the government, while it is all right for that same congress to levy another tax on the great mass of consumers, is an interpretation of states' rights that defeats nearly all individual rights. If I wish to purchase a hat the Englishman stands ready to sell it to me for $3; but McKinley steps in and says "if you buy that hat you shall pay a fine at the custom house of $2," and thus it is that two hat manufacturers, constituents of Senator Hill, levy a tribute of $2 upon every man of the millions who buy their hats. This is nothing but fat robbery. Then why should not these two bloated monopolists pay a part of their swag into the public treasury in the way of an income tax? What applies to hats applies to thousands of other articles traded by McKinley. This is it that has made socialism rampant in America. We impose a tax to "protect" labor. The manufacturer looks out that "protected" labor, and sends to Europe for other labor, found in the slums, where anarchy breeds political and social pestilence. This is what has made of Pennsylvania a political and social volcano, liable at any moment to erupt and play the very devil, not only with Pennsylvania, but with the whole union.

Nowhere else on the globe, not in Italy, not in Russia, is the distance between the rich and the poor so great as in the protected state of Pennsylvania. This is the fruit of protection, root and branch, the whole union will be Pennsylvaniaized. Coxey's army would be a reality—a terrible reality, an avenging and a destroying reality.—Savoyard," in Courier-Journal.

The reputation of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood medicine, is maintained by daily cures.

C. B. ROSS, JR., & CO.

LEXINGTON.

We have an elegant assortment of

NOVELTIES

— IN —

Dress Goods, Silks

— AND —

KID GLOVES.

When in Lexington don't fail to give us a call.

Masonville and Lonsdale Cotton, 7½c yd.

Best Calicos, 4½c yd.

Lancaster Apron Gingham, 4½c per yd.

Foster's Kid Gloves,

Featherbone Corsets

Standard Patterns.

C. B. ROSS, JR. & CO.

Lexington.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

Established March 4, 1885, and Made Famous in the Celebrated Story of "Jonathan and His Continent," by Max O'Rell.

SPENCER COOPER, Owner and Editor.

"Of a Noisy World, With News From All Nations Lumbering at His Back."

$1.00 A YEAR, Always in Advance.

TENTH YEAR.

HAZEL GREEN, WOLFE COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1894.

NUMBER 6.

A BIG DROP.

When you come to Lexington drop in and see us, and we will show you the biggest stock of CLOTHING, Hats and Furnishings for Men and Boys—Wholesale and Retail—you ever saw. If you can't come write to us and tell us what you want.

Men's Suits from $5 up.

Boys' Suits from $1.25 up.

You will make more than your expenses, though, if you come in person and make your selections.

ONE PRICE CLOTHING HOUSE,

M. KAUFMAN & CO.

54 E. Main Street, LEXINGTON, KY.

MERCHANTS' JOB LOT HOUSE.

WHOLESALE ONLY.

137 and 139 Race Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Big Drives in

CLOTHING, SHOES, HATS, ETC.

Send for our Price List.

H. & G. FEDER, PRICES

165 & 167 Race Street, CINCINNATI, O.

The leading house for FANCY DRY GOODS, FURNISHING GOODS and NOTIONS. Always have Big Drives. Special attention to Mail Orders.

Clark County National Bank

MAIN STREET, WINCHESTER, KY.

JOHN W. BEAN, President.

B. F. CURTIS, Cashier.

Capital, $200,000. Surplus, $100,000. Undivided Profits, $35,000.

Organized 1865, being the oldest bank in the county. Collections made on all points, and your business solicited.

Clay City National Bank,

CLAY CITY, KY.

Capital, $50,000.

FLOYD DAY, President.

J. F. COX, Cashier.

No Bank in Eastern Kentucky has better vaults, nor better facilities for keeping your account. Managed entirely by home people who know you and who are always ready to accommodate you.

Money to loan on reasonable rates. Call on us.

TRADERS DEPOSIT BANK,

MT. STERLING, KY.

CAPITAL, $200,000. SURPLUS, $80,000.

J. M. RHODES, President.

G. L. KIRKPATRICK, Vice President.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

We respectfully solicit the business of merchants, farmers, traders and business men generally throughout Eastern Kentucky. A general banking business done. Give us a chance to send you a bank book, pay your checks, and loan you money when in need.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cash.

Winchester Bank,

WINCHESTER, KY.

N. H. WITHERSPON, President.

R. D. HUNTER, Cashier.

Paid up Capital, $200,000.00. Surplus, $60,000.00.

This Bank solicits the accounts of merchants, farmers, traders and business men generally throughout Eastern Kentucky, and offers its customers every facility, and the most liberal terms within the limits of legitimate banking.

VICTOR BOGAERT,

Manufacturing Jeweler.

17 E. Short Street,

LEXINGTON, KY.

Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry. Reliable Goods. Fair Dealing and Bottom Prices. All Goods and Work Guaranteed.

tax of that nature, however; but it ought to be a tax on franchises and inheritances. The Hon. Uriel S. Hall, of Missouri, a practical farmer and a cultured versatile statesman, speaks as follows on this subject in the house of representatives:

"Coming down to the question of principle can you ever perfect a revenue tariff in any government without an income tax? My able colleague from Missouri (Mr. Tarsney) dwelt in some measure upon this matter. I notice in the Washington Post of this morning an extract from the New York Sun, in which that organ denounces the income tax for the reason that the revenue from the income tax law in England had varied during a period of twenty years; this writer cites the fact that during this period the rates of taxation varied from sixteen pence on the pound to two pence, the revenue derived by the government varying from 5,500,000 pounds to 17,500,000 pounds. I quote the article merely from memory. Now, I say that this flexibility of the income tax is one of the greatest arguments in its favor. I do not believe that any party on earth, that any man who is a patriot, wants to see the business interests of this country hobbled and the obligation of contracts impaired by changes in the tariff every two or four years."

"I asked an eminent number of the ways and means committee whether he could even in theory conceive of a tax which would give a proper revenue for 1895 and 1896, which would not produce a surplus of at least twenty-five millions in 1897 and 1898. He answered, as every student of that subject must answer: 'No.' Without an income tax the only method at your command for producing the proper flexibility of revenue to meet the flexible demands of the government, without disturbing the business interests of the country, is to change your tariff schedule every two years. I am not one of those who believe that the present business depression is due to threatened tariff legislation, but rather that with a view to the present tariff legislation fastened upon the people with increasing and ever-growing burdens until its final culmination in the McKinley act of 1890, which has brought around with marked severity the present financial crisis under which we are now suffering."

"I believe that tariff legislation or threatened tariff legislation must also have some tendency to impair the obligation of contracts, to disconcert business, to bring about business distress. And I believe that no party that has at heart the real interest of the country can afford to say: 'We will change the tariff legislation of the government every two years, and thereby run the risk of impairing the obligation of contracts and disturbing business interests.'"

"By this kind of a tax, a tax upon incomes, the English government was enabled to pass through the Crimean war; and the man who wrote that article in the New York Sun did not say it was during that war, but the dates show it. And the fact that the rate varied from 16d. to the pound to 7d. to the pound, and 4d. to the pound and down to 2d. to the pound showed what? It showed that England was enabled, by increasing the income tax, to pass through the Crimean war with very little disturbance of the internal revenue or from the tariff taxes; and they were able, when the crisis passed, to bring it down, and bring nothing but good will and gratitude from all classes of the people."

There is much in the argument that an income tax is more inquisitorial than other taxes. We all remember the Tilden case. A corporation tax, and inheritance tax is far less inquisitorial and such a tax should be levied in order to avoid periods of surplus and of deficits in the treasury. But for good or for ill we are going to have the income tax. Hill assails it because it is in a bill that he thinks has too much free trade in it. There is the secret of his hostility. That is all about the income tax being un-American. There is a modified income tax in New York now. Why did Hill not have that repealed when he was the boss of the state?

A little over two years ago Mr. Hill made a blunder. He held a "snap" convention. A few days later there was a mutter that came up from the country. Soon it became a growl, then a roar, then it increased to the volume of reverberating thunder, and finally it was tremendous enough to silence all the bombards of Stenograph. Perhaps Mr. Hill is repeating himself. His speech was carefully prepared; it was deliberate; but its motive was so transparent that it did no execution except in the recoil. He began with an attack on Gresham—who is sound on the tariff question at any rate, and the best hated man on the part of monopolistic corporations in the

WHEN IN LEXINGTON

VISIT

MARCH'S,

24 W. Main Street,

FOR

Furniture, CARPETS AND STOVES.

MONEY SAVED

ON

EVERY ARTICLE.

American Union. One would infer that Hill never appointed a Republican to office in his life; but I read in a New York paper the other day a list of distinguished and leading Republicans appointed to office by Hill, while he was governor. There are a set of men in New York known as "Hill Republicans." Low Sessions, who played such a miserable part against Roscoe Conkling in 1881, is one of them. No wonder Hill puts himself at the head of the Republicans and leads a charge against the confirmation of a justice of the supreme court because the gentleman nominated had declared in a public speech that the McKinley law was not only inexpedient, but unconstitutional.

The states' rights part of Senator Hill's speech was admirable as a political essay. But its conclusions were all wrong. To say that it is hereby for congress to levy a tax on the rich for the exclusive purpose of securing revenue to the government, while it is all right for that same congress to levy another tax on the great mass of consumers, is an interpretation of states' rights that defeats nearly all individual rights. If I wish to purchase a hat the Englishman stands ready to sell it to me for $3; but McKinley steps in and says "If you buy that hat you shall pay a fine at the custom house of $2," and thus it is that two hat manufacturers, constituents of Senator Hill, levy a tribute of $2 upon every man of the millions who buy their hats. This is nothing but flat robbery. Then why should not these two bloated monopolists pay a part of their swag into the public treasury in the way of an income tax? What applies to hats applies to thousands of other articles taxed by McKinley. This is it that has made socialism rampant in America. We impose a tax to "protect" labor. The manufacturer locks out that "protected" labor, and sends to Europe for other labor, found in the slums, where anarchy breeds political and social pestilence. This is what has made of Pennsylvania a political and social volcano, liable at any moment to erupt and play the very devil, not only with Pennsylvania, but with the whole union.

Nowhere else on the globe, not in Italy, not in Russia, is the distance between the rich and the poor so great as in the protected state of Pennsylvania. This is the fruit of protection, root and branch, the whole union will be Pennsylvaniaized, Corey's army would be a reality—a terrible reality, an avenging and a destroying reality.—"Savoyard," in Courier-Journal.

The reputation of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood medicine, is maintained by daily cures.

C. B. ROSS, Jr., & Co.

LEXINGTON.

We have an elegant assortment of

NOVELTIES

—: IN —:

Dress Goods, Silks

—: AND —:

KID GLOVES.

When in Lexington don't fail to give us a call.

Masonville and Lonsdale Cotton, 7½¢ yd.

Best Calicos, 4¢ yd.

Lancaster Apron Gingham, 4¢ per yd.

We are Sole Agents for

Foster's Kid Gloves,

Featherbone Corsets

—: AND —:

Standard Patterns.

C. B. ROSS, Jr., & Co.

Lexington.

SWAMP-ROOT CURED HIM.

HENR. M. CLARK

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Dear Sirs:—In March 1881 I was afflicted with rheumatism and inflammation of the bladder so I could hardly walk. The rheumatism affecting my back and shoulders so that I was almost helpless. I saw your Swamp-root advertised and bought three bottles of Dr. C. Porter & Son, Druggists, of Towanda, and after using each of the bottles I became better and after taking the three bottles I am completely cured and have had no recurrence of my trouble since.

HENR. M. CLARK.
TOWANDA, PA.
Jan. 24th, '94

Monkey Tax in Bohemia.
The so-called "monkey tax" of the commune of Riesenberg, in Bohemia, is surely the most eccentric in its origin of all surviving feudal impositions. One of the lords of Riesenberg, in the latter years of the middle ages, had a monkey bought for him in the east, for which he paid an enormous sum. One day the monkey escaped from the castle and fled into the woods. The peasants, who had never seen a monkey, supposed it to be the devil in a guinea-hum shape going about seeking whom he might devour, and they shot it dead. They imagined they had done an act of Christian piety for which they deserved thanks. The angry lord, however, was incensed at the loss of his ugly pet, and imposed a yearly fine upon the peasant commune, which it continues to pay up to the present time.—Westminster Gazette.

The remains of an immense deer were discovered recently near Ponte Rassa, Italy, in a swamp known as Nonno's Express swamp. It is said to resemble the well known prehistoric Irish elk and is the only specimen of that kind ever found in this country. The antlers, which are in a perfect state of preservation, measure eight feet and eleven inches from tip to tip.

FIVE carriages with rubber tires are said to be coming into the city of New York. These tires cost about $100 for a set of four, and rarely last more than one season, but they are a great comfort to those who can afford them, making the motion of the carriage easy and noiseless.

Russian railroads are the most dangerous to persons in every 1,000,000 passengers are killed or hurt.

Barbara is of Latin descent. The first Barbara was a foreigner or stranger.

Only a 63 marriage.
"Married women," said Mr. Jason, as he watched his wife clearing away the supper dishes, "married women ain't treated half as bad as they think they are."
"I'd like to know the reason they ain't," snapped Mrs. Jason, dropping the dishcloth to the floor.
"Why, it's just this way. They set to thinkin' over the way they was treated in the courtin' time for a few weeks after the weddin' common ordinary treatment looks like cruelty to them."—Indianapolis Journal.

Queen has been made as to the nationality of Mme. Adeline Patti, who was recently referred to as a Spanish-American. She was born in Spain, of Italian extraction, came to America at the age of one year, and had all her early musical training in this country, and at present pays taxes to England on a case in Wales.

HARTFORD, CT., has a colony of several hundred Italians, many of whom have become owners of real estate. Three brothers, LeRoy, who were street minstrels a few years ago, now own a blue duck and Nicholas Polotti, who was a rag picker twenty years ago, figures on the tax list for $10,000 worth of property.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, Lucas County.
I, FRANK J. CONYER, make oath that I am the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Conyer & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that can be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CONYER.
Notary before me and subscribed in my presence, this 14th day of December, A. D. 1893.
J. A. GLENN, Notary Public.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and applied to the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Sold by Dr. Williams, Free of Charge, F. J. Conyer & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists.

"Do I make a fool of myself often, Miss Lovell?" he asked. "Oh, no," replied she, smiling, "not often—only it seems to last."

A Singular Form of Monomania.
There is a class of people, rational enough in other respects, who are certainly monomaniacs in losing themselves. They are constantly trying experiments upon their bodies, and their bodies are the result of their experiments with their nostrils. When these organs are really out of order, if they would only use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, they would not so hopelessly immerse, preserve his superiority.

HE IS RIGHT. She: "Are your family and you very old?" He: "Oh, yes, they are all hoarse." Detroit Free Press.

$42.50 for a Farm Wagon. [E]
The best wagon in the world can be had for $42.50 a better one for $45.00.

IF YOU WILL GET THIS IT AND WRITE with it to the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Presse, Wis., you will receive their valuable catalogue, where you can read about this wagon.

Arizona has a new time of climate. A hotel is to be built in the desert. The order holds an import. San Francisco News Letter.

Illustrated Book—An illustrated book containing a never-failing, containing stories and anecdotes told by Abraham Lincoln, and heretofore unpublished, will be sent free to every person sending his or her address to the Lincoln Fair, Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Some people who are too honest to steal, will borrow and never pay back. Ham's Horn.

Don't neglect a Cough. Take some Hale's Honey of Marshmallow and Tree Root. Pink's Toothache Drops are in one minute.

"The Wilkes children have lovely manners," declared who they belong to."

"I have never found any thing equal to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," writes H. G. M. of Hampton, Va., Ky. Sold only in boxes.

No one can read others well who is not a reader."

Laymen without a plan is as foolish as going to bed without a compass in the night.

"I always did enjoy an intellectual feast," said the candidate as he ate the Yale man's cake.

The neighbor's bulldog may knock a man to lead a chased life. Florida Times Union.

The lady man believes that there is no hill and it is not steep.

The man who knows the least shows it the most. Atlantic City.

Who's sleep is broken with because of the pleases. Texas Sittings.

The most optimistic thing in the world is going-up-combination—Young Men's Era.

Old Peter's lamp.

The life blood of a national bank is in its circulation.

An INTERVIEW. One: "I have half a mind." She: "Interpreting." "Really, so much so that I—Detroit Free Press.

The most absent-minded man in the world has a son found at Green, N. Y.

By a telephone the other day, in one of his abstract moments, and himself up.

Books to be read—a book.

The wise pedagogue always keeps cool while he keeps school.

A TOMBSTONE is about the only place where the average man doesn't really care to have his name in print.

"Hurry, what are you doing in the pants?" "Well, I just puttings few things away, and so."

"Don't know how many three times ten. Now, hurry, and the teacher." "Of one half of a road and ten cents, wouldn't three cents, thirty cents?" "Maybe so, if your belly, but we deal with a baker who gives three for a quarter."

DURING hard times consumers cannot afford to experiment with inferior brands of baking powder. It is NOW that the great strength and purity of the ROYAL make it indispensable to those who desire to practise economy in the kitchen. Each spoonful does its perfect work. Its increasing sale bears witness that it is a necessity to the prudent—it goes further.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 108 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

THE WIDOW PASSION.—Burdette. "Here, I want your money." Victim: "Too late, old man. My husband got it ten hours ahead of you with a three months' board bill. I'm not and don't disturb me." Detroit Free Press.

A SCHOOL FOR GALLANTRY.—"How polite and attentive Robinson is to his wife!" exclaims her ladyship at a certain dinner. "What makes his ladyship so perfect when he is with other ladies?"—Boston Transcript.

The brilliant Jones who likes an appreciative audience to his lectures: "Oh, there! It is no use! I give it up! Conversation is impossible when people will talk."—Punch.

"Is Dr. Bright analyzing for the stage?" "Yes, indeed, he can walk twenty miles a day now."—Latter Boston.

Use ST. JACOBS OIL FOR PAINS.

RHEUMATIC, NEURALGIC, SCIATIC.

And all the World Knows the CURE is SURE.

In the Early Days

of cod-liver oil its use was limited to easing those far advanced in consumption. Science soon discovered in it the prevention and cure of consumption.

Scott's Emulsion

of cod-liver oil with Hypophosphites of lime and soda has rendered the oil more effective, easy of digestion and pleasant to the taste.

Prepared by Scott & Bown, N. Y. All Druggists.

1/2 RATE

2 LAND SEEKERS EXCURSIONS

—TO THE—

NEW SOUTH

—FROM AND VIA—

LOUISVILLE AND CINCINNATI

—VIA THE—

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

(SUNDAY PASSENGER SERVICE)

On February 8th, March 8th, April 8th, 1894.

For further information address your nearest agent or

T. B. LYNCH, Gen. Passenger Agent, Louisville, Ky.

STAYS hooked—turn, twirl, wriggle. The DR. LENO PATENT HOOK AND EYE.

See that hump?

Trademarked by Dr. Leno, Philadelphia.

Ely's Cream Balm

WILL CURE CATARRH

Mistress.—"My husband was out to dinner last night, Bridget, and it was so necessary for you to sweep the hall this morning." Bridget:—"Yes, mum. Is there anything else, mum?" Mistress:—"You might run the carpet sweeper over his dress just a few times."—N. Y. Herald.

"She was a wonderfully bright and intelligent girl, always at the head of her class, and the star scholar at graduation. In fact, she never failed in anything but the married life." And how did she fail?—"She married a man to reform him."—N. Y. Press.

Every man is either a stepping stone or a stumbling block in the pathway of life.—Young Men's Era.

The turning point in the lives of most farmer boys is at the end of a furrow.—Buffalo Courier.

Use ST. JACOBS OIL FOR PAINS.

RHEUMATIC, NEURALGIC, SCIATIC.

And all the World Knows the CURE is SURE.

In the Early Days

of cod-liver oil its use was limited to easing those far advanced in consumption. Science soon discovered in it the prevention and cure of consumption.

Scott's Emulsion

of cod-liver oil with Hypophosphites of lime and soda has rendered the oil more effective, easy of digestion and pleasant to the taste.

Prepared by Scott & Bown, N. Y. All Druggists.

1/2 RATE

2 LAND SEEKERS EXCURSIONS

—TO THE—

NEW SOUTH

—FROM AND VIA—

LOUISVILLE AND CINCINNATI

—VIA THE—

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

(SUNDAY PASSENGER SERVICE)

On February 8th, March 8th, April 8th, 1894.

For further information address your nearest agent or

T. B. LYNCH, Gen. Passenger Agent, Louisville, Ky.

STAYS hooked—turn, twirl, wriggle. The DR. LENO PATENT HOOK AND EYE.

See that hump?

Trademarked by Dr. Leno, Philadelphia.

Ely's Cream Balm

WILL CURE CATARRH

After reading the following letters can you longer doubt that a true worthy remedy for that terrible fatal malady, consumption, has at last been found. If these letters had been written by your best friend and most esteemed neighbor they could be no more worthy of your confidence than they now are, coming as they do, from well known, intelligent and trustworthy citizens, who, in their several neighborly, enjoy the fullest confidence and respect of all who know them.

K. C. McLean, Esq., of Knoxville, Princess Anne Co., Va., whose penitential leads this article, writes: "When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I was very low with a cough, and at times I was all run down, very weak, my head was dizzy and I was extremely despondent. The first bottle I took did not seem to do me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles and now I am one year and five months better and feel like a new man. People are astonished and say, 'well, that you this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can thank fully say I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery' would have resulted in my death."

Even when the prescription to consumption is inherited, it may be cured, as verified by the following from a most fruitful and much respected Canadian lady, Mrs. Thomas A. Smith, of Brighton, Ont. She writes: "I have long felt it my duty to acknowledge to you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his 'Pleasant Pills' have done for me. They almost raised me from the grave. I had three brothers and one sister died of consumption and I was especially following after them. I had severe cough, pain, expectoration and other alarming symptoms and my friends all thought I had but a few months to live. At that time I was persuaded to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the first bottle acted like magic. Of course, I continued on with the medicine and as a result I gained rapidly in strength. My friends were astonished. When I commenced the use of your medicines, six years ago, I weighed but 120 pounds and was sinking rapidly. I now weigh 135, and feel like a new man."

John Thos. Macdonald.

"Golden Medical Discovery" cures consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs), by its wonderful blood purifying, invigorating and nutritive properties. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, nasal catarrh, bronchitis, severe coughs, asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. While it gradually cures the severe cough, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood.

"Golden Medical Discovery" does not make fat people more corpulent, but for thin, pale, puny children, as well as for adults reduced in flesh, from any cause, it is the greatest blood-builder known to medical science. Suffered liver and all the "consumptions" are not to be compared with it in efficacy. It rapidly builds up the system and increases the solid flesh and weight of those reduced below the usual standard of health by "wasting diseases."

In the entire system after the grip, pneumonia, fever, and other prostrating acute diseases, to build up wasted flesh and strength, and to restore health and vigor when you feel "run down," and "used up," the best thing in the world is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It promotes all the healthy functions, restores every organ to its normal action, purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses, repairs, and builds up the system.

A Treatise on Consumption, giving numerous testimonials with photographs, or half-tones, portraits of those cured, is mailed free to the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of six cents in stamps, to pay postage. Dr. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1,344 pages, 36 illustrations, mailed for $1.50.

THE POT INSULTED THE KETTLE BECAUSE THE COOK HAD NOT USED SAPOLIO.

SAPOLIO

GOOD COOKING DEMANDS CLEANLINESS.

SAPOLIO SHOULD BE USED IN EVERY KITCHEN.

THE POT INSULTED THE KETTLE BECAUSE THE COOK HAD NOT USED SAPOLIO.

SAPOLIO

GOOD COOKING DEMANDS CLEANLINESS.

SAPOLIO SHOULD BE USED IN EVERY KITCHEN.

STAYS hooked—turn, twirl, wriggle. The DR. LENO PATENT HOOK AND EYE.

See that hump?

Trademarked by Dr. Leno, Philadelphia.

Ely's Cream Balm

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

STAYS hooked—turn, twirl, wriggle. The DR. LENO PATENT HOOK AND EYE.

See that hump?

Trademarked by Dr. Leno, Philadelphia.

Ely's Cream Balm

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

Agents: Ely's Cream Balm, 100 N. 3rd St., N. Y.

WILL CURE CATARRH

Price 50 Cents.

THE HERALD

SPENCER COOPER, Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.:
THURSDAY, May 3, 1894.

TEN PAGES.

YOU'LL FIND IT HERE.

Georgetown college will dedicate its new buildings during commencement week in June.

Car loads of whisky are being shipped to South Carolina, since the state dispensary law has been declared unconstitutional. At San Francisco Mark Robler William Frederick was found guilty of the murder of Cashier Herriek in five minutes by the jury. The importation of American trotting horses in Austria-Hungary for breeding purposes has assumed considerable proportions.

Samuel F. Vaughan was hanged at Fayetteville, Ark., Friday. He had hired a firm head to kill ex-County Clerk time, a rival henchman.

Six Louisville convicts in the Frankfort penitentiary had planned to escape. The plot was detected in time and frustrated by the prison officials.

The Republican party in Magoffin county, Ky., has split over the recent primary, and the chances for electing the Democratic ticket are favorable.

The congressional fight in the Ashland district promises to be one of the severest ever held in the state. All the contestants are putting forth all their energies.

A Mason county, Kentucky, farmer made a net profit of $2,400 on forty acres of land last year. He put in a diversified crop, and worked it in an intelligent manner.

Leonal Bailey, a well known attorney of Muncie, Ind., was found dead in a saloon at that place. No arrests have been made, but the authorities are investigating.

Prof. F. M. Helveti, whose sudden illness was mentioned in this column last week, succumbed to the fell destroyer on the 24th inst. in St. Joseph's hospital, Lexington.

William A. Frazer, a prominent farmer near Huntington, Ind., died recently from a peculiar trouble. A bone had grown around and lacerated the heart, causing heart failure.

The city marshal of Missouri Valley, Iowa, and a posse surrounded a house containing thieves, and in a battle that followed the marshal was killed, a thief fatally shot and one of the deputies wounded.

In Louisville a man was arrested and sent to jail for stealing a pocket book. When the man's time was out it was discovered that he had stolen the ten cents, which had adorned the jail walls in a neat frame.

At a meeting of the Democratic state central committee of North Dakota, at Fargo, resolutions were adopted rebuking the Democrats in the senate for their inactivity at this time, when the country demands prompt legislation.

The corner stone of the United Brethren church at Burke, Ind., laid 27 years ago, was picked by burglars. It was valued at $200 in money, a Jack knife carried for many years by William Henry Harrison, and gifts of the county papers.

Lincoln county, Kentucky, got ahead of the insurance companies last year. She paid $7,485 in premiums, and got $17,767 in losses. Boyle paid out $25,380 and received $11,647, and Garraut put up $45,276 and only drew out $15,187.

An unknown robber entered the office of the county treasurer, at the court house, at Portland, Oregon, stole the cashier in charge, Charles B. Mullerkey, and then, jumping through a window, escaped with about $2,000 of the county's funds.

By the use of fisherries Chapline river at Cornsboro, Ky., has been polluted and thousands of fish destroyed. The stench arising from the dead fish is so great that the people of the village, which lies on both sides of the stream, can hardly stand it.

At Vancouver, Wash., Howard Nolan, arrested last week, admits that his name is John Howard Nolan, of Harlan Court House, Ky., and that in the year 1861 he killed Edward Pace and John Seiler, about six miles from Harlan Court House. After leaving Kentucky Nolan went to Seattle and enlisted in the army.

The little town of Caneasville, six miles east of Athens, Ohio, has an alleged daily appearance of a veritable ghost on its streets. It is that of a woman attired in conventional white, accompanied by a white dog. It comes out between one and two o'clock in the afternoon, and when approached by anyone fades away in a mist.

Henry Borgman was arrested last week for the murder of his sister. He is 35 and she 20. The coroner's investigation showed that Borgman had been sustaining illicit relations with his sister, she revolved and he cut her throat and then plunged the knife into her abdomen. He was taken to jail, and it is rumored that a mob would lynch him. The Borgmans lived near Osmond, Ind.

WOLFE COUNTY NEWS.

Compton Currency.

Born, on the 18th ult., to the wife of Lewis Collier, a boy.

Hon. G. B. Swango, of Frankfort, has been here several days attending court. Hazel Green's young attorney, James H. Swango, was in attendance at court last week.

Miss Mahala Byrd, who has been very sick for some time, is improving nicely at this writing.

Dr. J. H. Stamper has been appointed by the state board of health as medical referee for Wolfe county.

Quite a crowd of people went to the cliffs below town last Sunday to have a photograph taken. Judge Redwine, the attorneys and nearly all of the young folks of the town, and a good many of the older ones, too, composed the group. We have not seen it, but imagine that it will be a thing of beauty.

COURT NOTES.

Circuit court convened here Monday, the 23d ult., with his honor, Judge D. B. Redwine, on the bench. The town was full of people, and when the court bell summoned them to the court house, it was packed to its utmost capacity. The judge's instructions to the grand jury were a clear and forcible explanation of their duties and responsibilities. He dwelt at length on the offense of selling liquor, picturing in his usual captivating and persuasive way the evil effects growing out of the traffic. He also called particular attention to that offense which is the greatest menace to the peace of our country—carrying pistols. In the course of his talk the judge paid Wolfe county the compliment of being the best county in his district to enforce the law. Judge Redwine is making us an excellent judge. He presides with dignity, is always pleasant and courteous, yet firm and unyielding in his rulings and decisions.

The following is a list of the grand jury: D. C. Lykins, foreman; S. N. Hobbs, R. F. Cable, William Holton, Washington Tyra, John H. Barker, J. J. Catron, J. H. Scott, W. R. Johnson, N. R. Wyatt, Powell Rose, J. M. Lockhart. The following named persons composed the petit jury: J. M. Toster, Fieldon Bush, Oscar Fallon, John Hutton, J. B. Davis, John Rose, J. M. Culbertson, Jas. Burton, Alex. A. Rose, Jerry Childers, W. J. Baker, Jonathan Childers, Joseph Catron, Leander Dunn, Jonas Campbell, J. S. Ashley, J. T. Stamper, J. L. Alexander, W. E. White, J. M. Gibbs, Elijah Collins, J. T. Center, G. B. Stamper.

Below will be found some verdicts in penal cases at the present term of court: Bruce Terrell, concealed weapons, ten days imprisonment and $25.00.

Same, breach of the peace, $10.

Hent Salley, breach of the peace, $7.50.

Willie Clark, concealed weapons, $25 and 10 days imprisonment.

Daniel Combs, concealed weapons, $25 and 10 days imprisonment.

Joseph Williams, concealed weapons, $25 and 10 days imprisonment.

John Gibbs, gauging at Hazel Green fair, $8.00.

George Oliver, disturbing religious worship, $20.

Ben Harris, selling liquor, $20.

William Stamper, disturbing religious worship, $20.

Jack Congleton, breach of the peace, $10.

Arch Simpkins, trespass, $10.

At least half of the criminal cases were continued on account of the parties not being ready to try at the time.

We give below some of the most important equity and common law cases tried, and the judgments in same:

Laura Tutt vs. S. M. Tutt, divorce. Judgment for plaintiff, $500 alimony, a divorce a mensa et thora, and a yearly allowance of $150 for her lifetime, and the custody of their infant son, Nicholas Tutt.

George Oliver vs. M. M. Shackelford. Shackelford had obtained a judgment in 1891 against Oliver on land and under execution on same he took some property and sold it. Oliver set up in his present damage suit that he was a housekeeper and that the property levied on was not subject to execution. Judgment for defendant.

Emily Lacy vs. A. P. Lacy. Judgment for maintenance $1,000.

Our present grand jury made 84 indictments. They were swiftness in their efforts to find out the violations of law that had been committed, and the number of indictments they returned attest how successful they have been. Let the grand juries be prompt to make indictments and the petit juries assess the fines to the full extent of the law, and we will have better times.

Rollin Kash and G. B. Stamper made application for license to practice law, and J. J. C. Back and W. W. McGuire were appointed by the court to examine them, and after having taken them through a written examination sufficient to test their knowledge of law and their ability to practice same, they were granted license to practice in all the courts of the commonwealth.

The visiting attorneys were: W. W. McGuire, West Liberty; I. W. Rose, Maytown; J. J. C. Back, Thomas Cove and John Patrick, Jackson; W. B. White and H. C. Lilly, Irvine.

RAMBLER.

Lee City Locals.

H. H. Swango was here last week shaking hands with the dear people.

Clay Rose has moved his stock of goods to his new store on Main street.

Clay Rose has just received a new organ and is well pleased with it.

Mrs. Robert G. Rose has been confined to her room for about two weeks with inflammatory sore eyes and has suffered intense agony, but we are glad to note that so is now improving.

Robert M. Trimble, of the firm of Trimble Bros., Mt. Sterling, was here several days ago and was a guest of the Allen House. We were glad to see Robert and are proud of his prosperity. He is another one of the young men that was born and raised away up here in the mountain wilds of Eastern Kentucky that now ranks among the first class business men of the country.

An election will be held in Lee City on the 7th day of May for the election of a full board of town officers, viz: Police judge, town marshal and five trustees. The candidates already spoken of are as follows: For police judge—C. B. Allen and Henry Patrick; town marshal—W. E. McPherson and G. B. Maloney; trustees—D. N. Wells, R. G. Rose, A. M. Nickell, Clay Rose and, perhaps, C. C. Chaney.

Rev. C. F. Heavenin, of Augusta, Ky., preached an able sermon at the Christian church, at this place, last Sunday, the first Methodist sermon ever preached in Lee City, the text being taken from Romans, 1, 16: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." The speaker first gave a concise and general history of the Apostle Paul during his tragic and eventful career while persecuting Christians in Jerusalem and the other cities, and showed to what depth he was steeped in sin and iniquity up to the time of his conversion while on his way to Damascus. He then took up Paul's history as a Christian converted and regenerated, and a more beautiful illustration of the wonderful power and working of the Holy Spirit on the heart, mind and soul of man has seldom been heard from a pulpit orator. The large congregation was composed of the several denominations of this section, only one Methodist being present except the speaker, yet all denominations unite in speaking in highest terms of the sermon. It was an embodiment of old time Methodist religion. ANS.

The attention of our readers and especially the farmers, is respectfully called to the handsome advertisement of Ed Mitchell's hardware house in this issue. This house is one of the oldest in Eastern Kentucky, and under Mr. Mitchell's management has taken front rank. He has just extended the building twenty-five feet, which not only gives more room but by the addition he has more light. The store has been recently repainted, all the small hardware is in hand, and the present appearance is exceptionally nice. This establishment carries an exceptionally nice line of agricultural implements, notable among which are the Whiteley Binder and Mower, the Mitchell Wagon, etc., etc.

Sharp, Trimble & Deaton, dealers in clothing and gent's furnishing goods, Mt. Sterling, invite a call from the people of this section, and when in that city you should go to see them. It is the only clothing house in Mt. Sterling that apparently desires your trade, and they will treat you nicely. You will find there a full line of the latest fashions in men's wear, boys, etc.

We buy goods by car load lots and that is why we can undersell any one in Eastern Kentucky. Sutton & Smith, Mt. Sterling.

Elder J. T. Pieratt will preach at Lee City next Sunday morning and afternoon.

About thirty-five years ago, Mrs. Milton Stevenson, of Georgetown, Ky., while brushing some broken glass from a table, struck a piece of glass in the palm of her hand. Since that time her hand and arm at times have given her considerable pain. A day or two ago she discovered a simple on her arm near the elbow, and, on picking it up with a needle, extracted the piece of glass, which all these years had been gradually working up into the arm from the hand.

When in Lexington call on L. & G. STRAUS, Leading Clothiers, who carry a larger line of CLOTHING and sell for less money than any house in the bluegrass capital. A Watch free with every purchase of $5, or over.

WALTER A. WOOD, 1894.

Always at the front in design, style and quality of our MOWERS, HAY RAKES, REAPERS and BINDERS.

with latest improvements, we call attention of farmers to their great strength, durability and light draft.

Our sales show that they are unexcelled. Send for Catalogue.

TUBULAR STEEL MOWER.

HAY RAKE.

WALTER A. WOOD MOWING AND REAPING MACHINE CO.

ENCLOSED GEAR REAPER.

HARVESTER AND BINDER.

See W. W. REED, Mt. Sterling, Ky., for prices.

A CITY STORE AT YOUR DOOR.

For the benefit of the ladies of Hazel Green and vicinity, I have opened a GENERAL FURNISHING GOODS STORE at my residence in Hazel Green, and will carry a complete line of the following articles, which will be sold at the LOWEST PRICES, viz:

Ladies' Hats, Suits and Velvets, Underwear, Handkerchiefs, White Bones, Ladies' Gloves, Gingham, Lawn, &c., Muslins, White Goods, Dress Shirts, Corsets, Dress Trimmings, Ladies' Toilets, Cutlery Trays, Ironing Plates, Silk Laces—black and white, Ladies' Slippers, Complete line of Hosiery, Etc., etc., etc.

Buy Your Hats of Me, and Get Them Trimmed Free of Charge.

My stock will embrace every article of Ladies' wear, in the latest style just from the city, as well as many other notions too numerous to mention. I will also do DRESS-MAKING, and will cut and make dresses to suit the hard-time prices. Best system of cutting by the Buddington Cutting Machine, which was awarded first premium at the World's Fair, 1883. Miss LAURA RAWLINSON, of Covington, Ky., well and favorably known to the ladies of this vicinity, will be my assistant. Your trade is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed. Very respectfully,

Mrs. FRED DAY.

HOFFMAN'S Insurance Agency. FIRE. LIFE. ACCIDENT.

The Safest, Best and MOST RELIABLE Agency in Eastern Kentucky. Rates Reasonable.

ASSETS OVER $260,000.00. LOSSES PAID 275,000.00.

Address A. HOFFMAN, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

THE HERALD

SPENCER COOPER, Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.:
THURSDAY, May 3, 1894.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Congress.

We are authorized to announce JOSEPH M. KENDALL, of Boyd county, Kentucky, as a candidate for Congress from the Tenth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce MARTIN L. LEMLE, of Clark county, as a candidate for Congress from the Tenth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For Sheriff.

We are authorized to announce SAM HENRY WILSON as a candidate for sheriff of Wolfe county, subject only to the will of the people at the polls in November, 1894.

For Justice of the Peace.

We are authorized to announce R. M. CECIL, of Stillwater, as a candidate for Justice of the Peace for the Holly and Stillwater district, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary election, May 26.

We are authorized to announce J. H. VEST, of Tallmadge Creek, as a candidate for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace for the Hazel Green and Lee City district, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary election, May 26.

We are authorized to announce JAMES H. SIBERTON, of Paducah, as a candidate for Justice of the Peace for the Hazel Green and Lee City district, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary election, May 26, 1894.

Way Forecasts.

The month opens at the end of April's closing storm period, with storm disturbances disappearing in extreme eastern parts of the country, and cooler weather prevailing in central and western sections. An equinox of Mercury is central on the 8th, and will cause cloudiness and tendency to continued drizzle. In the extreme north east need not prove a surprise. By the 14th decided change to warmer will develop in the west, and during the 5th to the 7th, reactionary storms will pass over the country, being central about the time of new moon on the 5th. A sharp change to cooler will follow the disturbances at this time, with strong probabilities of frost along the northern side of the country from about 7th to 10th.

From 10th to 14th is the next regular period of change and storm. A very warm wave is apt to appear by the 11th, in western regions, and during the three days next following storms of much energy and wide scope will traverse the country from west to east. Another very cool wave for the season will come in behind the storms, causing several days of much cooler weather in the country generally. Heavy rains may be reasonably expected during the last named disturbances—namely, about the 11th, 12th and 13th, during which time a series of daily storms, recurring near the same time of day, or night, for several days need not be unduly feared. Watch barometers, temperature and direction of wind; if barometer falls to rise after one storm passes, with wind still in east and south, expect another storm from the west, and so on until conditions change.

The cool weather following the storms of the last period will give place to warmer, and secondary storms will appear in many places about the 17th and 18th, immediately after which the barometer will rise rapidly to a very high reading, attended by a sharp change to cooler.

From 21st to 23rd falls the next storm period, during which time it will grow very warm, and many storms of rain, thunder and wind will appear. In all these disturbances, the intelligent use of the barometer, and correct observation of wind currents, will foreshadow with much certainty the coming and the intensity of storms. About the 27th and 28th will be central the last disturbances for May, bringing fair and cooler days and nights for the closing month.

In the nature of things, May must bring more or less violence, in a meteorological way, but there is a marked absence of disturbing causes, so far as other planets are concerned. There are reasons to believe that storms will not be unusually frequent and heavy; but it will be the part of prudence to watch them all, and be prepared to take refuge from all that may carry in their cloudy folds the desolators of towns and hearts and homes.—Word and Works.

P. L. Reese, at Mt. Sterling, is headquarters in Kentucky for sewing machines and supplies. Write him for bottom prices.

Monster snake.

A special from Harrodsburg, Ky., says: "Mr. John Yeast, a farmer residing near Cornsille, this county, brought to this city a huge snake, the like of which was never seen in this locality. The reptile was eight feet 10 inches in length and measured 12 inches in circumference. Mr. Yeast was harrowing in a field, and had just turned his team around, when the monster of a snake appeared. He rushed from a fence corner, with head erect and glided rapidly in front of the team. The animals took fright and ran off, leaving Yeast to battle with the reptile. Seizing a half rail he succeeded in killing the monster, and discovered that it had been blinded, apparently a long time ago. This snake has been the dread of women and children for the last five years. During that time his sneakship has been frequently seen by different persons who gave wonderful descriptions of the monster. Last summer a company was formed to kill it. Several unsuccessful attempts were made before he was seen. When pursued he managed to escape to Chapline river cliffs near by."

Mrs. Lou Day requests us to say to the ladies of Hazel Green and the surrounding country that she has just opened a full and complete line of millinery, dry goods, notions, ladies' dress goods, etc., which she will sell at the lowest prices for cash or produce—butter, lard, chickens, eggs, or anything she can use for the table. She has a nice line of trimmed and untrimmed hats, for spring and summer, which will be added to from time to time, so that the very latest styles can be found here. She also has a fine line of toilet articles.

Dead at Ninety-Eight.

Ex Governor N. S. Berry, the oldest ex-governor in the United States, died April 27 in Bristol, N. H., of pneumonia, aged ninety-eight years. He was born in Bath, Me., September 1, 1796. The first forty-five years of his life were spent in mercantile pursuits. In connection with his business, however, he engaged in politics, and in 1828, 1833, 1834 and 1837 he represented Bristol, N. H., his adopted home, in the legislature. In 1838 he was state senator from the Eleventh district. He was a judge of the court of common pleas from 1841 till 1850, and at various other times held political and appointive offices. In 1845 he was nominated for governor and received votes enough to prevent an election by the people. He was elected governor by the Republicans in 1861 and was re-elected in March, 1862, serving until 1863. He was a Christian and was a member of the Methodist church.

If the care of the hair were made a part of a lady's education, we should not see so many gray heads, and the use of Hall's Hair Renewer would be unnecessary.

Good Roads to Lead Everywhere. Down in the country of Hardin the courts and the people are making a great thing to have turnpike roads built. A greater blessing than good roads never came to the people of any country. Here in Grant county we can boast of 200 miles of macadam turnpike roads, the best to be found in the state, and we would not exchange our heritage of good roads for $5 an acre on all our land. Grant county's turnpike roads has been the work of only twelve years.—Williamstown Courier.

The stockholders of the Hazel Green fair association will meet at the floral hall, on the fair grounds, on Saturday, May 5, 1894, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing officers and board of directors for the ensuing year.

H. F. PIERATT, President.

You can relieve that headache you have by buying a box of Meigs' Headache Remedy. It will only cost 50 cents and is sold on a positive guarantee.

FOR SALE.—About 500,000 feet of pine and poplar timber near the mouth of Swift's creek and about one mile from Red river. For terms see 10 S. F. Howe, Campton, Ky.

WAS PREPARED TO DIE.

But When the Time Came His Vision Failed to Come True.

Some time since, says the New York Telegram, a certain farmer in the middle of this state, an eccentric old fellow the neighbors said, had a vision. Somebody appeared to him, a spirit, a hobgoblin or what not, and informed him that he had only a few months to live. The date fixed was in November.

The farmer took the matter very seriously, but he had no fears. He told his friends that he was about to depart, and began to get ready. He paid all his debts, which is more than even death can induce every one to do, and offered his farm utensils and his stock for sale. He wanted to clean things up handsomely, as every homeward-bound should do, and leave no entanglements behind him. Among other things to be disposed of were two cows, but as he wanted to live comfortably while he did live he concluded to look on to those cows until the last moment.

Oddly enough, now that the time of his exit is close at hand, he has had another vision. A new set of ghosts or hobgoblins have appeared to him and informed him that arrangements have been made to allow him to stay in this wicked world a little longer. He was rather relieved at the postponement of his funeral, but still felt a degree of embarrassment for pretty nearly everything he had, wagons, horses and harnesses, rakes, hoes, axes, some cords of wood behind the house, had all been got rid of, and the farm looked as though it had just been abandoned.

The old fellow is a bit riled, however. "This vision business," he said the other day, "has cost me dear," and he has been heard to use some rather strong expressions about hobgoblins in general and this particular hobgoblin that seems to have been playing a practical joke on him.

He is specially glad that he didn't sell those cows. They are about all he has left, but they will serve as a nucleus for the things he will have to buy in order to run the farm. When a stranger comes along nowadays and says he would like to take a peep at those cows with a view to purchasing them, the farmer comes as close to profanity as a country church deacon ever gets. He thinks the worst words, but bites his tongue and remarks that he hasn't any cows for sale, but is thinking of buying a herd and going into the dairy business.

The moral of this is that hobgoblins are very useful creatures in their way; that when they tell you to pay your debts you had better follow their advice, but if they tell you you are going to die you had better take camomile tea and send for the doctor. At any rate, don't part with your cows.

SUPERIOR to all other medicines for purifying the blood and restoring the health and strength.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

is the standard specific for Scrofula, Catarrh Rheumatism, and Debility.

Cures Others will cure you.

Don't Fall In to the hands of any but reliable people when you are looking for CLOTHING. We are the largest house in Central Kentucky and make a specialty of $7.00 and $10 Suits. With every suit for Men we give a guaranteed, lever movement, dust proof, WATCH AND CHAIN FREE. "White Hall." GRAVES, COX & CO. LEXINGTON, KY.

I want all your Good Butter, and will pay 12 1/2c. a pound for it.

Eggs 9-13 cents.

And when you want to get the BEST GOODS for the LEAST MONEY, you will find that I can accommodate you in every particular. I have a large stock to select from, and whether you buy or not I will be pleased to see you every time you come to town.

Wishing your continued good will and patronage, I remain,

Yours to please,
JOHN M. ROSE.

Hazel Green, Ky., Jan. 26, 1894.

Who Is Your Friend?

When this question goes around the Business Circle the answer comes back, "The one who can give the best values for the least money. Having been in the market as a season when the jobbers were cleaning up, I have been able to purchase some rare bargains, which shall be the gain of my customers. Give me your care while I quote you prices.

Ladies' Cloaks	75 and up	Men's Heavy Overcoats	$2.00 and up
Ladies' Fine Shoes	2.00	Ladies' Fine Shoes	2.00
Men's Heavy Kn Boots	2.00	Men's Fine Shoes	1.00

No TIME, but MORE GOODS FOR THE MONEY than can be had elsewhere.

Very respectfully,
G. W. ROBINSON,
CAMPTON, KY.

J. TAYLOR DAY,
Dealer in General Merchandise on a Cash Basis.
Largest Stock.—Lowest Price.

LOUIS STIX & CO., WHEN YOU WANT A WARDROBE
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Dry Goods,
NOTIONS, Etc.,
Third, Race and Union Sts.,
CINCINNATI, O.

We carry the goods that will suit your trade and our prices are THE LOWEST. Special attention given to mail orders.

JUDGE AMOS DAVIS, W. T. LIBERTY, KY.
—WITH—
Bettman Bros. & Co.
MANUFACTURERS OF CLOTHING,
20 West Pearl Street, CINCINNATI.
The trade of Eastern Kentucky merchants is respectfully solicited.

T. C. JOHNSON, J. H. SWANCO, Campton, Hazel Green.

JOHNSON & SWANCO, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.
Will practice in the Wolfe county and circuit courts. Collections promptly made and abstracts of title furnished on short notice.

H. B. MAUPIN, WITH
D. H. CARPENTER,
WHOLESALE DRY GOODS,
NOTIONS, HATS, SHOES, &c., 607 1/2
CATLETTSBURG, KY.

WM. B. LOCAN,
Druggist and Bookseller,
WINCHESTER, KY.

Mail orders promptly attended to, and your patronage is desired. Call when in the city.

A. FLOYD BYRD, Campton, Ky.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
Abstracts of title furnished, collections made and prompt returns guaranteed. Connected with the law firm of Wood & Day, Mt. Sterling, Ky., in civil practice.

A. HOWARD STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and the adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

J. T. MILLER,
DEALER IN
Hardware, Iron and Steel,
LEXINGTON, KY.

FOR FIRE JOB PRINTING, CALL AT THIS OFFICE.

Or anything in the Jewelry line, let me know it. I will furnish you goods worth the money, and YOU will have GUARANTEE at home where you can use it.

Respectfully,
T. F. CARR,
THE JEWELER,
EZEL, Morgan County, Ky.

J. H. PIERATT,
Livery, Feed and Sale Stable
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

"Double and Single rigs and Saddle horses for hire. Parties conveyed to any point on reasonable terms."

"I will also attend to all calls for auctioneering, and sell business of this kind. Respectfully, JOHN H. PIERATT."

JOHN M. ROSE
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Is the only firm in the town who sells the justly celebrated

Boots : and : Sho from the wholesale house of
C. P. Tracy & Co
PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.
When you want the BEST give him a call.

J. T. DAY,
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Is the only merchant in Wolfe county who sells the celebrated

CHILLED
SOUTH BEND PLOW,
and he respectfully invites farmers to call and examine it before purchasing.

BEN. WILLIAMSON & CO.,
CATLETTSBURG, KY.

Sole agents for North-east Kentucky.

C. D. MOORE
WITH
BEN WILLIAMSON & CO.,
Hardware, Cutlery, &
CATLETTSBURG, KY.

Sole Agency for South Bend Plows.

DR. J. E. LOCKHART,
DENTIST.

ABOUT CONSUMPTION.

It is Declared to Be a Contagious Disease.

An Ancient Theory Revived Through Scientific Investigation—No Provisions Against Contagion Can Be Made.

The Philadelphia County Medical Society has petitioned the board of health of that city to put consumption of the lungs on the list of contagious diseases, says the Baltimore Sun. The request has awakened interest in the old question of the contagiousness of consumption; and incidentally on the general subject of infection and contagion. Some of the diseases which flesh is heir to are contagious in every sense of the word. A contact so slight that it does not even reach skin contact, but merely with the air which smoothes patients breathe, is sufficient to cause smallpox in man. So, too, mediocrity contact—that is to say, the handling by the well of material touched by the sick—has been proved to be the cause of many diseases, of which erysipelas and scarlet fever may be cited as examples. The products of certain other diseases—typhoid fever, for example—require to be taken into the economy to become malleable.

Still others, such as glanders, must be introduced into the blood current itself before they are dangerous. These facts have been proved by long observation and are not to be disputed. A horseman treats a case of glanders with perfect security, provided his skin is whole or is protected. A nurse or a doctor stays for hours in the room of the typhoid patient and suffers no hurt. The older doctors, therefore, set these diseases to one side as infectious, but not contagious, for it was equally evident that they were carried from patient to patient, not through the air, but through other, and to them unknown, means.

The discovery of bacteriology have settled many questions, but have unsettled many others which were supposed to have been fixed forever. Among other things it has broken down the barrier between contagious and infectious diseases. All the diseases which have been mentioned are now believed to be caused by germs of several origin, some of which are known, others of which are only suspected. The explanation of the bacteriologist as to the difference in their effect on the human organism is simply that of the Bible. Some germs fall on good ground and multiply, other on stony ground and fail to grow, or wither at once. When a typhoid germ breathes into the lungs it perishes just as the myriad of other germs which we daily breathe. It is far otherwise if it is swallowed with the food or drink, and finds after running the gauntlet of the juices of the stomach a suitable place for growth in the intestines. The germ grows and multiplies, and the ordinary phenomena of the disease result. This will give a general idea of the simple and apparently complete answer to many of the vexed questions which puzzled the older doctors.

Unfortunately the practical difficulties are not entirely removed by the theoretical explanation, and especially is this true of consumption. Even if it is granted that the disease always originates from a germ, and that this germ came from some previous case of the disease, the fact that so many persons are attacked all at once, and the fact that the disease is so general, shows that there must be other factors than the germ alone which cause the disease, or at least aid in its propagation. So far these other factors are almost unknown.

That consumption was contagious centuries ago, and in the habit of destroying bodies and belongings of consumptives, and in some cases even the houses in which they lived, for fear of the spreading of the plague. That it is not very actively contagious in the present day is shown by the fact that the dwellers in cities are alive at all, for statistics prove that from one-tenth to one-fifth of all the deaths in large cities are due directly or indirectly to the disease, and that consequently a number of sufferers from the disease must be present in every large gathering of people. Except in the later stages the patient is not confined to his bed. He mingles in all the social and industrial avocations of life. Not infrequently he is "the life of the party" or the "backbone" of the office. In the present state of society, at least, such men cannot be condemned to a leper camp nor sent against their will to a sanitarium, however excellent.

The general fact that consumption is a disease which, under certain circumstances, may become contagious or infectious, should be admitted. A sufficient number of cases are known where the carrying of the disease from the ill to the well is clearly proved to demonstrate the general fact that consumption is sometimes contagious. This should lead to the most scrupulous care on the part not only of the physician but of the intelligent patient to prevent the spread of the disease. But any attempt to prevent such infection by quarantine regulation must almost necessarily prove abortive.

Too Much Said.
First Trump—If I had my way I'd have 320 national holidays in the year.
Second Trump—You would, eh? And then there would be one working day.

SHE KNOWS A LOT.

That is the Secret of the Really Popular Girl.

The really popular girl always knows a lot, says the Philadelphia Enquirer. She knows enough not to gossip about people who have done her favors and who are in a way of doing her favors. She knows enough to dress appropriately at all times and never to be overdressed. She knows enough not to "give away" all the funny confidences that the boys give her when in the blues or feeling particularly good, and she knows how to cook when they are stranded on an island, becalmed and without oars or a stick with which to pole home. She knows just how to catch a fish and then to cook it, and she knows enough not to growl and whine and complain until they are safely home.

She knows how to dance, swim, row, sail a boat, play the piano and banjo, sing negro melodies and college songs. She knows enough not to "give away" all the funny confidences that the boys give her when in the blues or feeling particularly good, and she knows how to cook when they are stranded on an island, becalmed and without oars or a stick with which to pole home. She knows just how to catch a fish and then to cook it, and she knows enough not to growl and whine and complain until they are safely home.

Meddergrass instructs a Collegian.
"Hello, Hayseed!" called out a rude young freshman to Farmer Meddergrass.
"Young man," replied the farmer, "you are talking to college on the hill there, don't you?"
"Yes."
"Then let me tell you something that is not taught there. It is unparadoxically incorrect to speak of hayseed. That is something which does not exist. Hay is dried grass, and the proper term is grass seed. Just remember that,"—Jury.

A Cool Customer.
"Do you know Dauenbury?"
"Yes."
"Well, he is a cool customer."
"What does he do now?"
"He lives in furnished apartments, and during the late cold spell he used the furniture of his landlord for fuel."—Texas Sittings.

The Correct Answer.
"James, how much is four, plus eight, plus one?" asked the teacher.
"Don't know," said James.
"Well, suppose I gave four apples to Harry, eight apples to Charlie and one to you. What would it be?"

WHY SUFFER
From that old complaint, when you can be permanently cured by an

ELECTROPOISE?
Others have been cured, why not you?
Disease Cured Without Medicine?
Not an electric belt or battery, but a simple home treatment, which causes the entire body of the patient to absorb

OXYGEN
Ask your neighbor about it; if he can not tell you write to us for one of our books—sent free.

HAZEL GREEN, Ky., March 19, 1894.
Messrs. Dattoise & Webb, Louisville, Ky.
Gentlemen—Through the kindness of Mr. Spencer Conover, brother of the Hon. HAZEL GREEN, I was afforded an opportunity to try the efficacy of your "Electropoise," and I must say that it acted like magic—almost a miracle to me. I was taken down with inflammatory rheumatism on the 5th inst., and in 21 hours my whole system was so sore and swollen that I was unable to move, and my limbs ached with pain almost unbearable. I had no use of elbow, hips, knees or feet, and in this helpless condition I continued to suffer until the 9th, when Mr. Cooper came and offered to use the Electropoise. I had no faith whatever, but like a drowning man clutching at a straw, consented to its use. In four hours the pain left my leg which the 'poise was attached, and I continued to grow better until the following Monday, when I was able to sit up all day, and had not a pain about me. Today (10th) I resume my business, and feel as well as I ever did. I should add that just two months ago I was confined to my bed for four months by a similar attack that the 'poise might have cured in four days. I BELIEVE now, and hope all who are afflicted as I was will try this same reliable remedy.

Very truly yours, F. N. DAY.
We are acquainted with the facts in this case, and can vouch for the truth of the above.
J. TAYLOR DAY.
J. H. PIERATT.

Nothing has ever received so many testimonials from trustworthy persons, many of whom are known to us—Western Recorder, Louisville, Ky.
The Electropoise is a mystery to me—almost a miracle.—(Elder) John I. Rodgers.
In one night the Electropoise relieved me of rheumatism of the hip and vertigo.—Rev. Geo. H. Means, Covington, Ky.

A friend of mine was entirely cured of the opium habit by the Electropoise.—Rev. W. W. Hines, Hustonville, Ky.
The Electropoise is a wonderful instrument, and it is more wonderful as to how it works than as to what it does.—T. E. C. Briley (Flows), Louisville, Ky.

Address DEUBOS & WEBB, 509 Fourth Street, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Spot Cash!

In justice to ourselves, we have adopted the Cash System! And every living creature that buys goods from this date will be required to pay

SPOT CASH!

We do this because we are driven to it. Those who owe will not pay. When you read this ask yourself the question, "Do I owe Pieratt & Co. anything?"

And if so, don't wait to be dunned, but come and pay, or in 10 days you will hear it thunder!

Thanking you for past favors, and hoping to merit a good share of your trade, we are, Respectfully,

H. F. PIERATT & CO.

ACADEMY OF THE VISITATION, FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Mt. Adirondack, White Sulphur, Ky. This institution, under the direction of the Sisters of the Visitation, B. V. M., is situated in a healthy and beautiful locality of the well-known Blue Grass Region. Here the pupils enjoy the comforts of home, far removed from the distractions of a city; and can, consequently, with greater facility avail themselves of the advantages afforded of a thorough education.

Terms reasonable. Music, Croyon and Painting extra. House is heated by steam apparatus. For further particulars address Sisters of the Visitation, B. V. M.

W. E. BARRINGER, WITH

Carter Dry Goods Co.

(Successors to Carter Bros. & Co.)

Importers and Jobbers of

DRY GOODS

AND NOTIONS, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Patronage of the mountain merchants is most respectfully solicited.

W. W. FVIE, REPRESENTING

SANFORD, VARNER & CO.,

wholesale dealers in

CLOTHING,

121 and 123 Second Street, PORTSMOUTH, O.

The trade of Eastern Kentucky is most respectfully solicited.

I. DINGFELDER, WITH

J. M. Robinson, Norton & Co.

Importers and Jobbers of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS,

Nos. 537, 539 and 541—

—West Main Street, LOUISVILLE, KY.

J. H. PHILLIPS, WITH

W. M. KERR & CO.,

IMPORTERS IN

Hardware & Agricultural Implements, IRONTON, O.

THE GRAND TWO.

EAGLE DRENNON.

This premium saddle stallion will make the season of 1894 at the stable of W. T. Swango, in Hazel Green, Ky., at $8 to INSURE A LIVING COLT, money due when colt is foaled or mare is parted with, with lien on colt until paid.

EAGLE DRENNON is eight years old this spring, weighs 10 hands high, beautiful mane and tail, plenty of style and stamina. Sired by the famous Blue Jeans, 3rd dam by the great pacer John Noddy, sire of the dam of Maggie F. 2:22; 2d dam by Adams Express, a noted saddle horse; 3d dam by Shalimar, 4th dam by Copperbottom. Eagle Drennon is a half brother to Rosebud sold for $1,800, and eight more that sold for $1,000 or more. Blue Jeans horses have for several years sold higher than any saddle horses in Kentucky. Eagle Drennon can show what he is for himself. His colts saddle from any class of mares. Any mare that can out rack or trot him, bred free. He took two blue ribbons at the Hazel Green fair last year.

Blue Grass Beauty.

This fine young stallion will also make the season of 1894 at the same place at $8 to INSURE money due when colt is foaled or mare is parted with, with lien on colt until season money is paid.

Here is the record of any colt in Kentucky, 15½ hands high, 4 years old the 7th of May; bright bay, with good mane and the grandest tail you ever saw. Goes at all the paces. Sired by Eagle Drennon, he by Blue Jeans; first dam Bird, by Lexington, one of the best mares in Montgomery county. Bird is the dam of two blue ribbon colts, and has racked a mile in three minutes. Second dam the celebrated Hiram Wilkerson saddle mare. Beauty is a perfect model in every respect.

COME AND SEE THEM.

A premium of $8 will be given for the best colt of either horse shown at the Hazel Green fair, 1894.

March 15, 1894. RAY MOSS.

The Young Spanish Jack.

ROSCO.

This premium Jack will make the season of 1894 at any stable in Hazel Green, Ky., at $6 TO INSURE A LIVING COLT, money due when colt is foaled or mare is parted with, for which a lien will be retinued on colt until season money is paid.

Rosco will be 10 years old June 1. He is black, perfect in form, and has to be seen to be appreciated. He was sired by Roscoe's imported Jack, that he paid $1,100 for; his dam, Black Bell, was sired by Old Alford, Howell's famous Jack, that he received $1,500 for; he by old Bourbon Wilkes Jr.

Care will be taken to prevent accidents, but will not be responsible should they occur. Mares from a distance will be kept on reasonable terms.

April 5, 1894.

W. T. SWANCO.

ENEMIES THREE

There are with which the weak person generally has to contend.

WORK regularly consumes his strength, but often pays for what it takes.

WORRY fights the candle at the other end, and never pays at all.

DISEASE ties his hands and deprives him of power of resistance.

Who can number the thousands

OVERCOME BY

this mighty trio? For years we have fought these consumers of life with life's own weapon, the air we breathe, made stronger for the combat by the aid and skill of modern science.

COMPOUND-OXYGEN

restores strength, quiets the nerves and expels disease.

Proof that will convince all who reason is offered free to all who suffer.

Send us your address.

DIS. STARKEY & PALEN,

1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

120 Sutter St., San Francisco, Cal.

FOR PRINTING,

CATALOGUES, MINUTES, LETTER-HEADS, ENVELOPES, and all that can be printed with type, ink and paper, call at

THE HERALD OFFICE,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

THE HERALD

Mrs. Lou Day made a dying visit to Hazel last Sunday.

Willie Jones came up from Hedges last Sunday to visit his friends here.

Mr. J. G. Trimble, of Mt. Sterling, is visiting relatives and friends at this place.

Register G. B. Swango, of Frankfort, is visiting relations and friends at this place.

Mrs. Lou Alice Havens, of Grassy, has our thanks for a nice mess of fine spring onions.

John H. Pieratt will please accept the thanks of the editor for a mess of the greatest delicacy of the season.

Mrs. Heibel Sally, near Hazel Green, is quite sick. Dr. Taulbee was called to see her Wednesday.

See the ad of Trimble Bros., Mt. Sterling, who are too well known in this section to need an introduction from us.

Miss Ida Cecil, near town, and Miss Rosa Trimble, of Hazel Green, both of whom have been quite sick, are now reported to be much better.

Hon. J. E. Quicksall, of this place, who has been very low with erysipelas since the first of April, is now able to sit up a little, but suffers severely at times yet.

If you are a candidate for magistrate or constable, you are required to pay $3 to me, on or before the 10th of May 1894. So do not neglect this if you are willing to serve the dear people.

H. F. PIERATT, Ch'm. Hon. Com.

That old reliable clothing establishment, the One Price Clothing House, Lexington, Ky., is advertised in our paper this week, and it will pay buyers of clothing when in Lexington to call and see them. Visitors will find there a hearty welcome and the greatest variety of clothing.

John Thomas, aged about 75 years, died at his home on Lay creek on Saturday evening last. He was a gunsmith by trade, and until a year or so ago managed to eke out a living by repairing firearms, but for some time before death was a subject of charity. He was a harmless, inoffensive old man, and well liked by all.

Hon. C. R. Brooks, late of Mt. Sterling, but now a resident of Oklahoma, has been promoted from assistant district attorney to the position of district attorney, which latter office pays $6,000 a year. This is a bit of news that will be appreciated by everybody in the mountains of Kentucky, where Cate Brooks has a host of warm, true friends.

The town of Hazel Green has been organized under the charter for the sixth year. The old board appointed trustees to fill the vacancies. Rollin Kash was made police judge, John Wilson marshal, Henry Pieratt street commissioner and W. T. Swango pound master. John Evans resigned as clerk, and W. H. Nickell was appointed in his stead. A town ordinance requiring all stock to be kept off the street will go into effect.

R. D. Motley, of Grassy, sent Oscar, his eleven-year-old son, to Louisville, with Dr. Kash, for the purpose of having his ankle joint straightened. The doctors said that if an operation was performed, Oscar would have to remain at the hospital at least two months. Mr. Motley then went to Louisville, but Dr. Kash had already started home with the boy. Mr. Motley returned home Tuesday, and says it has cost him about $40 without any benefit to his son.

The situation in the congressional race is such in this county that nearly every one with whom we have talked desires the matter settled by a secret primary election, and if the county committee will consult the interests of their constituents they will do so on next Monday order a primary. It is apparently the best for everybody and has the redeeming feature of preventing fraud and corruption in choosing a congressman, and all who desire an honest expression in the matter must coincide with this view.

Graves, Cox & Co., Lexington, Ky., have an ad in this issue. They say "Don't Drop In," but the reading of the ad. will convince you that it refers to something of benefit to you. They will be glad to see you at any time, and if you buy a suit of clothes from them they will fit you out with an elegant time piece free. Ed. Wickliffe, who is now connected with the house, has been in the clothing business ever since the introduction of fig leaves as a covering for the body, and he will aid you in making a selection suited to your complexion.

The Stempel Fire Extinguisher is the greatest fire fighter yet introduced in America and at the same time one of the simplest and cheapest. The undersigned of Cincinnati all recommend it and the chiefs of every city fire department where it has been used unite in saying that it is the best thing with which to subdue fire that they have ever seen. One fireman told us that it was far more effective in case of fire than 200 buckets of water would be under ordinary circumstances. The editor of this paper is the agent for Morgan and Wolfe counties, and those who desire protection from fire should call at once and secure a Stempel Extinguisher. That the people may see and know just what it will do, we will give an exhibition with it on Saturday evening at 4 o'clock.

The ladies of Hazel Green and vicinity, who any desire a fine dress pattern, or trimmings, or notions, or dry goods, will do well to write to the firm of John Samuels, Mt. Sterling, Ky., which is now under the management of that price of good fellows, Mr. John King, than whom there is not in Mt. Sterling a finer man. They have no display advertisement in this paper but prefer to show you the display of dress and dry goods in their elegant emporium of fashion and bargain bazar, which you will find on Main street should you visit that city. A mail request for samples, however, will bring you just what you desire in fashionable dress fabrics and you can make your selection and have the goods sent by mail or otherwise.

W. W. Reed, whose place of business is under the opera house at Mt. Sterling, has an illustrated advertisement in this issue to which the attention of farmers is directed. It tells its own story better than we can do it in type, and if you have grass or grain to reap or mow it will be well for you to read Reed's ad before you go to purchase an article in this line. He also carries a full and complete line of hardware and cutlery of every kind and makes a specialty of stoves and ranges. Mr. Reed has a very fine tobacco fertilizer that he is anxious to introduce into this section, and tobacco men who may wish to produce an extra good crop should communicate with him before setting their plants.

Robert J. McLin and family, the latter consisting of his wife and baby, left here on Monday for Winchester, where they will permanently reside. Mr. McLin will be in charge of the Day Grocery Co. at that place, and to those who do not know him, we can say that Winchester does not, nor ever has, contained a better citizen in every respect. We commend both he and his good wife to the people of that beautiful little city, and feel confident that after a short residence there they will say their lines have fallen in pleasant places.

Sutton & Smith, of Mt. Sterling, have an ad in this paper to which the attention of our readers is respectfully directed. They handle furniture, carpets, curtains, rugs, etc., etc., and propose to sell as cheap as anybody. We have bought goods from them for years, and have always found them reliable. They occupy two rooms of Masonic Temple, each of which is 30x100 feet, and both of them are filled with goods, in their respective lines. Our people will find them nice gentlemen and their goods first class.

Mrs. Maggie Casady, well known as a tasty trimmer in millinery and an artistic dressmaker, is now with Mrs. Lou Day, of this place, and will be pleased to attend to the wants of any who may need work in either line. Everything new in millinery is being constantly added, including the latest styles in hat and bonnet frames, and they will be trimmed up in any style desired, at the lowest price. Give her a call when in need of anything of the kind.

Spencer Cooper, of the HAZEL GREEN HERALD, was here last week on his way home from a three weeks' trip. While in Cincinnati he purchased a Campbell cylinder press and other material for THE HERALD office. We are glad to note this evidence of prosperity on the part of our valued friend.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

The first news of new potatoes of the season were brought to THE HERALD office last Friday morning, and were donated to the editor and his better-ly by Mrs. Lizelle Hauley and Miss Margaret Hauley. Many thanks, ladies, for your kind remembrance.

We occupy two rooms, 100 feet deep by 30 feet wide, and have them crowded full of goods at prices that will surprise you.—Sutton & Smith, Mt. Sterling.

Our carpet department is very large, and the very latest patterns, as well as the lowest prices. Sutton & Smith, Mt. Sterling.

We pay spot cash and can buy goods from 10 to 20 per cent cheaper than those who buy on time, and our customers get the benefit of it. Sutton & Smith, Mt. Sterling.

Rollin Kash and wife have gone to housekeeping in the old Trimble property, and he will devote his time to the duties of his position as police judge and the practice of law.

The handsome monument erected on the lot of Mr. J. G. Trimble in Maplech cemetery, and which is said by many to be the handsomest piece of work in the cemetery, was furnished by the Owingsville Marble Co., which has secured orders here for a number of other handsome monuments.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Hugh Hicks, the carpet man of Lexington, has an ad in this paper to which the attention of the ladies is directed. Mr. Hicks has been in the carpet business for a lifetime and knows all about it. Buyers of carpets, therefore, have the advantage of his long experience, and they will find by using him that they get superior goods at less money than is ordinarily the case. We have known him a lifetime, and for him we can truly say that when he tells you a carpet is Brussels it will prove just so.

On Monday, April 30, at the home of her son Willie, Mary Agar, wife of the Rev. F. Agar, sweetly fell asleep in Jesus. She was well known in the mountains, where she helped her husband in the blessed mission work. She often spoke of the dear people of Maytown, and of their kindness to her, and also of her dear young people in the Sunday-school class, and would often say she would meet them in the New Jerusalem. To know her was to love her. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Yingling, assisted by Rev. A. Brudenbaugh, of Baltimore. Her sorrowing husband sends greeting. Her favorite hymn was:

In the rifted rock I'm resting
Safe, secure from all alarms;
When I'm passing through the river
Jesus bears me in his arms. —[A.]

Academy Notes.
Henry Murphy, of Maytown, is again in school.

W. H. Oliver is detained yet at his home near Flat by sickness.

E. W. McKinney will teach a school in Menefee county this year.

Morgan county has the largest representation in school this year. Several teachers now in attendance at school, hold first class certificates to teach.

The April number of the Academicist is out. Send us 25 cents and renew your subscription.

Our school has representatives from ten counties, four of which are blue-grass counties, viz: Clark, Montgomery, Fleming and Bath.

The daily session now begins at 7 a. m. and closes at 1 p. m., except the teachers' drill class and theory and art and elocution, which meets at 2 and continues until 3 p. m.

All boarders are required to study from 2 to 4 p. m., in their rooms, also from 8 p. m. till 10. Should persons see any boarders in town from 4 p. m. till 8, they will understand the reason.

There will be an elocutionary and musical recital by the pupils of Mr. Swango and Miss Robertson at the Academy chapel, Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. Mr. Swango will deliver his World's Fair speech. Everybody invited. No admission fee charged. ACADEMITE.

MORGAN COUNTY NEWS.

Ezel Evolutions.
The prospects now are that there will be an average crop of late fruit in this locality.

Died, on the 29th ult., James Brooks. W. H. Nickell and Mrs. Lou Day were in town Sunday.

Miss Ann Eliza Pieratt, who has been attending school at West Liberty, is now at home, the school having closed.

It seems that the Peoples party has gone to seed, and the harvest is now fully ripe, and Coxe and others are coming, "bringing in the sheaves."

The Misses Cockrell, who have been successfully conducting a hotel at this place, recently made considerable improvements. By the direction of Miss Louisa all the buildings have been nicely repainted, while Miss Gene, among other splendid arrangements, has contracted for a lifetime supply of Rice, of extra weight and superior quality. The Rice was imported and was delivered promptly on time, and early last Wednesday, April 25, Rev. Manker, of Maytown, came down and collected the necessary revenue, performing the ceremony about half past seven. The new accessions to matrimony, John M. Rice and Miss Gene, at once left for their home at Louisa. It was a quiet wedding, and a surprise to most of our people, some of them not knowing it until they were married and gone. We understand that Mr. Rice has a position in Frankfort, and that he places they were to go about the first of this month. BLURT.

BUY THE Stempel Fire Extinguisher — AND — SAVE YOUR HOUSE FROM FIRE.

CHEAP, SIMPLE,
RELIABLE, HANDY.

Insurance may cover actual loss of goods burned but it does not pay for time and trade lost while re-establishing business. PREVENT THE FIRE WITH A STEMPEL

SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky., agent for Wolfe and Morgan Counties. Call and see the Little Wonder.

RACKET STORE, 11, 13 and 15 W. Main Street, LEXINGTON, KY.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

The largest, cheapest and only Cash Store in Lexington. We want your trade and are prepared to show you the greatest selection of goods in the city. One large room devoted to shoes, a second room is filled with Dry Goods, Notions, etc., while in the third room we carry an immense stock of Gent's Furnishing Goods, Hats, etc. To ascertain how many of the readers of this paper deal with us, we will allow a discount of 5 per cent to any customer bringing this advertisement when they deal with us. This offer good for two months only. Watch for notices in our new change.

J. D. PURCELL.

Begin the Year Right.

Let your first entry be a resolution not to buy until you have seen us for

Carpets,
Curtains,
Rugs,
Oil Cloths,
Mattings.

You will run no chance. Things are what they seem.

There will be no disappointments in store for you.

HUGH HICKS,

MANAGER,

87 N. Broadway, LEXINGTON, KY.

Ed. MITCHELL,

— DEALER IN —

HARDWARE, QUEENWARE, TINWARE

And a Full Line of Agricultural Implements.

Mitchell Wagons, Owensboro Wagons,
McCormick Binders and Mowers,
Whiteley's Solid Steel Binders and Mowers,
Repairs kept in stock for McCormick, Whiteley and Champion Machinery, Granger and Tiger Hay Rakes, Avery and Malta Double Shovel Plows.

The . Best . and . Cheapest . Cook Stoves . and . Ranges . on . the . Market .

Queensware at Cut-Throat Prices.

MANTELS AND GRATES.

ED. MITCHELL,

"The Farmers' Friend,"

North Maysville Street, : : Mt. Sterling, Ky.

As it is Springtime of course everyone will want to clean house and must have

A New Carpet or Matting, Window Shades or House Furnishing Goods.

Such as Bedroom Suits, Cheap Bedstead, Rockers, Pianos, Organs, Bureaus, Tables, Mattress and everything that you can find in a first-class Furniture House. We have the largest line of Carpets in Eastern Kentucky, and our Furniture is the latest and at rock bottom prices. Be sure to call and see us at MASONIC TEMPLE.

SUTTON & SMITH, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

TRIMBLE BROTHERS,

WHOLESALE : GROCERS,
MT. STERLING, KY.

THE RECRUITS

For Jesus Christ Are increasing by the Millions.

Only One Century in Nineteen Shows a Loss—From Half a Million in the First Century to Three Hundred Million in the Present—Talmage's Sermon.

In the Tabernacle Sunday Rev. Dr. Talmage preached a most eloquent and characteristically vigorous sermon in refutation of the oft-renewed assertion of the enemies of religion that Christianity is retrograding and the Bible losing its hold upon the hearts and consciences of men. The subject of the discourse, as announced, was, "From Conquest to Conquest," the text being taken from Amos ix, 13: "I will hold the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper."

The picture shows a tropical climate with a season so prosperous that the harvest reaches clear over to the planting time. And the swarthy husbandman, swinging the sickle in the thick grain, almost feels the breath of the horses on his shoulders; the horses hitched to the plow preparing for a new crop. "Ile-ye-ho!" he shouts, as he swings the sickle. The plowman shall overtake the reaper." When is that? That is now. That is this day, when hardly have you done reaping one harvest before the plowman is getting ready for another. I knew that many declare that Christianity has collapsed; that the Bible is an obsolete book; that the Christian church is in the retreat; will hear and now show that the opposite of that is true.

At first, the Arab guide was leading a French intidel across a desert, and ever and anon the Arab guide would get down in the sand and pray to the Lord. It disgusted the French intidel, and after awhile as the Arab got up from one of his prayers, the intidel said: "How do you know that you are a good man?"

The Arab guide said: "How do I know that a man and a camel passed along our tent last night? I know it by the footprints in the sand. And you want to know how I know whether there is any God. Look at that sunset. Is that the first step of a man and a camel? No, it is the promise you and I have come to understand that this book is the first step of a God."

But now let us see whether the Bible is as last year's almanac. Let us see whether the Church of God is like a Bull in a china shop, retreating before the onslaught of the heathen, and giving up the ground, as the saying is, "stealing all the way." The great English historian, Sharon Turner, a man of vast learning and great accuracy, not a very good Christian, gives this overwhelming statistics in regard to the number of Christians in the different centuries. In the first century, 10,000 Christians; in the second century, 2,000,000 Christians; in the third century, 5,000,000 Christians; in the fourth century, 10,000,000 Christians; in the fifth century, 15,000,000 Christians; in the sixth century, 20,000,000 Christians; in the seventh century, 24,000,000 Christians; in the eighth century, 30,000,000 Christians; in the ninth century, 35,000,000 Christians; in the tenth century, 50,000,000 Christians; in the eleventh century, 70,000,000 Christians; in the twelfth century, 80,000,000 Christians; in the thirteenth century, 75,000,000; in the fourteenth century, 80,000,000 Christians; in the fifteenth century, 100,000,000 Christians; in the sixteenth century, 120,000,000 Christians; in the seventeenth century, 155,000,000 Christians; in the eighteenth century, 300,000,000 Christians; a decadence, as you see, in the nineteenth century, but then made up in the following centuries, while it is the usual computation that there will be, when the record of the nineteenth century closes, 500,000,000 Christians. Poor friend? (What a pity it has no friend! How lonely it must be! Who will take it out of the poor-house? Poor Christianity! Thank God, it has friends! In a few weeks of the year 1881 2,500,000 copies of the New Testament distributed. Why, the earth is like an old castle with twenty gates, and every gate is being battered under down every age. We see all Christendom and see how heathenland is being surrounded and honeycombed and shattered by the hammering gospel. At the beginning of this century there were only 150 missionaries; now there are 3,000 missionaries and native helpers. At the beginning of this century there were only 300,000 heathen converts; now there are 1,750,000 converts from heathendom. There is not a square inch of planet but the work of the gospel is planted and ready to march on, north, south, east, west. You all know the chief work of an army is to plant batteries and to plant them many, many days to plant the batteries, and they do all their work in planting. These batteries are being planted all along the coast of Africa, all along the coast of Asia, and they may take a good while to plant them, and they may do all their work in one day. They will, I think, be planted in the next few months. Nations are to be born out of the wilderness. It is the fact that during the last ten years as many people have been connected themselves with the Christian churches as in the first 50 years of this century.

So Christianity is falling back and the Bible, they say, is becoming an obsolete book. I go into court, and [illegible][illegible][illegible]

The Infidels say: "Infidelity shows its successes from the fact that it is everywhere accepted, and it can say what it will." Why, my friends, infidelity is not half so biatant in our day as it was in the days of our fathers. Do you know that in the days of our fathers, when the Infidels pronounced against public authority, and they could get any political position? Let a man to-day declare himself antagonistic to the Christian religion, and what they want him for mayor, what state wants him for governor, what nation wants him for president or for king? Let a man openly proclaim himself the enemy of God, and how glorious is his position? The majority of votes in any state, in any city, in any county, in any ward of America.

Do you think that such a scene could be enacted now as was enacted in the days of Robespierre, when a shameless woman was elevated as a goddess, and was carried in a golden chair to a cathedral, where incense was burned to her and people bowed down before her?

as a divine being, she taking the place of the Bible and God. Alvin Karpis, who was the courier, said that the trial was enacted such scenes of drunkenness and debauchery and obscenity as has never been witnessed. Do you believe such a thing could possibly occur in a trial? It certainly does. And the police, whether of Paris or New York, would swoop on I know infidelity makes a good deal of talk in our day. It is on the lips of the people. But a jump out of a cannon doesn't make him more so. From a cannon stair he makes more excitement than all the 500 people that stay on the decks. But the fact that he jumps overboard—does that stop the people from saying he is a hero? No, it doesn't. It makes great excitement when a man jumps from the leeturing platform or from the pulpit into infidelity and blasphemy. We keep the Bible and the church from exhorting their millions of passengers into the skies?

They say, these men, that science is overthrowing religion in our day. They look through the spectacles of infidel scientists, and they say: "It is impossible to believe that the Bible is true. They are finding it out; the Bible has gone to go overboard; science is going to throw it overboard." Do you believe that the Bible is going to be thrown overboard? It is being overthrown by infidel scientists who have fifty different theories about the origin of life? If they should come to a solid phalanx, all agreeing that the Bible is true, would you then perhaps Christianity might be dangerous; but there are not many differences of opinion inside the Church. If you are a Unitarian, you are used to say, "there are so many different denominations of Christians—there shows there is nothing in religion." I have to tell you that all denominations have their own peculiar and radical doctrines of the Christian religion. They are unanimous in regard to Jesus Christ, and they are unanimous in regard to the resurrection of the dead. They flow it as they go the other side? All agree, you can not find two of them alike. Oh, it makes me sick to see these infidel fops going along with a copy of the Bible in their arms, and a copy of a case of transfixed grasshoppers and butterflies under the other arm, telling about the "survival of the fittest," and the "progressive" and "regressive" hypotheses. The fact is that some naturalists, just as soon as they find out the difference between the feeling of a wasp and the feeling of a grasshopper, and the feeling of Almighty Agassiz, glorious Agassiz, who never made any pretensions to being a Christian, put both his feet on the doctrine of evolution. They say, "I am a Christian, many of the naturalists of our day are adopting facts which do not bear observation, or have not passed under observation." These men, warring against the Bible, are not infidels. They are Lamarck, Wallace warring against Cope, even Herschel denouncing Ferguson. They do not agree about the origin of life, they do not agree on embryology, do not agree on the gradation of the species. What do they agree on? Herchel writes a whole chapter on the errors of astronomy, and says, "I am a Christian, but I do not put in the right place." He says that if it had been put four times further from the earth than it is now, it would be a planet, and not a star in the universe, but Lionville comes up just in time to prove that the moon was put in the right place. How many colors woven into the light? Seven says Isaac Newton. Three, says

Borealis? Two and a half miles, says Lias. One hundred and sixty-eight miles, says Twining. How far is the distance, says the high priest?
million miles, says Lucelle. Eighty-two million miles, says Humboldt. Ninety million miles, says Henderson. Or says Mavel? Only a little dis-ference of 28,000,000 miles! All appliing up among themselves—not agreeing at all.

And the disciples of Jesus Christ are divided on the great doctrines. A united they are, in Jesus Christ. In the doctrine of the scriptures they are united, and two of them rendered the verdict, no, no, they both agree on that verdict. "Gentleness of the jury have you agreed on a verdict?" says the high priest. "Yes, yes," say the jury. They come in after having spent the whole night in deliberation. If the jury say
"Yes, we have agreed," the verdict is "Gentleness of the jury." The high priest says, "I think the man was guilty of murder," and another says, "I think he was guilty of manslaughter, in the murder of a man." The high priest thinks he was guilty of assault and battery with intent to kill, the judge would say: "Go back to your room and bring in a verdict, agree on something that you can agree on."

think a mere sermonizing, and the infidel scientists have impaled themselves as a jury to decide this trial between infidelity, the plaintiff, and Christianity, the defendant, and after being out for centuries they come in to tender their verdict. Gentle men of the jury, have you agreed on a verdict? No, no. Then go back for another 500 years and deliberate and agree on something. There is not a poor miserable wretch in the Tomb to-morrow that could be condemned by a jury thus constituted, agree on anything, yet you are expected to give up our glorious Christianity to please these men who can not agree on anything.

Ah! my friends, the church of Jesus Christ, instead of falling back, is on the advance. I am certain it is on the advance. O Lord God, take Thy sword from Thy side and ride forth to the tory.

I am mightily encouraged, because I find, among other things, that while for centuries, infidelity has not destroyed one church, or crippled one minister, or uprooted one people, it has always failed miserably. The church at all the time getting the victory, and the shot and shell of its enemies never exhausting. I have been examining the ammunition; and I find, if I looked all through their camp, their ridge boxes. They have not a single shot, or a single powder horn, or a single idea. They have utterly exhausted their ammunition in the battle against the church and against a Scriptural religion. I have said, "O Lord Almighty is as keen as a sword." Was. We are just getting our troops into line; they are coming up in columns, and in ranks, and in squad grades, and you will hear a shout awhile that will make the earth quake, and the heavens ring with Alleluia. It will be this, "Forward the church line."

And then I find another most encouraging thought in the fact that the secular printing press and pulpit are not so far apart as they seem. The proclamation of the Gospel, Every West street banker to-morrow in New York every State street banker to-morrow in Boston, every Third street banker to-morrow in Philadelphia, every merchant will have in his pocket a treatise on Christianity, a call to repentance, ten, twenty or thirty passages of Scripture, and the words of the prophets preached throughout the day. It will be so in Chicago, so in New Orleans, so in Charleston, so in New York, so in every place where I know the trade societies are doing a grand and glorious work, but tell you there is no power on earth to-day to make the secular printing press taking up the sermon which are preached to a few hundred or a few thousand people, and on Monday morning and Monday evening, uttering that truth to the millions. What a thought it is! What an encouragement for every Christian minister to-day! How has it been during the past few years every one of the doctrines of the Bible came under discussion in the secular press? Do you not remember a few years ago—when I was a young man—there was an editorial on the subject: "Is there such a thing as future punishment?" It was the strangest thing that the secular press had ever said. The press on that subject, but every paper in the United States and in Christendom discussed: "Is there such a thing as retribution? I know there were some who made that a subject of discussion, but there was not an intelligent man on earth who, as the result of that discussion did not ask himself the question: 'What is the future punishment?' So it was with Tyndal's prayer gauge. About twelve years ago, you remember, the secular papers discussed that, and with just as much interest as they do now, and there was not a man in Christendom who did not ask himself the question: "Is there anything in prayer?" and the result was the same. Oh, what a glorious fact, the secular printing press and the pulpit of the Church of Jesus Christ harnessed

Then look at the International Sunday-school lessons. Do you know that every Sabbath, between 5 o'clock, there are 8,000,000 children in the Sunday-schools, a large number prepared by the leading mission societies, and printed in the papers, and then given over to the teachers, who are to teach them the Bible? Whereas, once and within our memory—the children nibbled here and there at a story in the Bible, now they are to be taught the Bible in its totality, and we shall have 8,000,000 children forestalled for Christianity. My soul is full of exultation. I feel that I have a large work to do. I will, I hope, be able to say, "Alas, woe, woe, the Lord God omnipotent reigneth!"

—Lithograph was discovered by poor poet named Senefelder who had been a printer. He had been told that it should see the light. The publisher would not print it. He determined to print himself. He had no type. He had no money. He had no ink. He had but had no copper and was too poor to buy any. He concluded to use stone and after many failures finally made the lithograph. He made a large fortune through his invention.

—Primus—Dalton's sight has become strangely affected, poor fellow. I see everything double. Secundus—I joke! I'm glad you mentioned it! I love him ten dollars and I'll tender him the five.—Judge.

—The popular opinion is that if the Chicago girl should let the grass grow under her feet some day, her papa would have a pretty good-sized lawn.

—Stuyvesant—Half the world now knows how the other live. Madison That's what comes of living in the without an air-shaft.—Browning. K.

—Lazarus was a Hebrew, destitute help. The name was very common among the Jews at the beginning of the Christian era.

—The extreme breadth of Texas 700 miles, and its extreme length 600.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

—There are 50,190 students in the American colleges and 465,033 in attendance at the academies.

—Rev. A. Routh, of Piney Flats, Va., has been the father of twenty children, sixteen of whom are living. He is seventy-five, hale and hearty, and able to ride circuit and preach every Sun-

—The private schools in the United States educate 1,603,806 pupils. How thoroughly dependent the negroes are on the state for education is seen in the fact that only 64,954 colored children attend schools where there is any charge or pay.

Chief Justice Jenne of England ruled that a minister of the gospel has no right to plead as a privileged communication in court the substance of a confidential communication made to him as a minister by one of his parishioners. The court, he says, not the individual, must judge when the ends of justice require such secrets to be made public.

Three of the Protestant Episcopal dioceses of New York state have more than 1,000,000 inhabitants each, and one of the three, the diocese of New York, has more than 3,000,000. The diocese of Long Island is the most densely populated. It has an area of about 1,000 square miles, and a population of more than 1,000,000. The diocese of New York has an area of about 5,000 square miles, with a population exceeding 3,000,000.

A majority of our college presidents are ministers. Of the books listed annually from the press no other single profession produces so many as ministry. Among the writers who most widely and largely read, ministers stand in the front rank. Sermons or books in sermon or sermon-like form are only less numerous than novels. The fact that publishers year by year, find profit in issuing these products of the pulpit, shows that the pulpit is holding its own as a literary factor.—Cumberland Presby.

Some years since Rev. Herbert Frost found it impossible to fill two Sunday engagements, so indured his wife to try to take his place for one of them. She succeeded far beyond their expectations, and began preaching on her own account, until now she is the pastor of the First Unitarian church in South Somerville, Mass., while her husband is a Unitarian minister. Whenever anyone compliments Rev. Herbert on his discourses, the reply comes: "All that a good sermon? You should hear my wife preach!" A similar case is that of Mrs. Amelia A. Frost, wife of Rev. George A. Frost, of Littleton, Conn. Mrs. Frost was regularly ordained a Unitarian minister several weeks ago, and will be associated with her husband.

Plans for a campaign in the city of me are being made by the mission society of the Methodist Episcopal ch of America. A lot has just been placed in the heart of the Italian city on one of the properties to erect erect a grand and handsome building to be headquarters of the mission in
y. An appeal to the Methodists of the United States for funds with which to build the new mission house has been made. This appeal ends with the statement that the church would be glad to see one hundred thousand dollars, characterizes the scheme as one of almost important enterprises ever presented to the Methodist Episcopal church. It is signed by Reverend Doctor J. H. McCall, pastor of the A. S. sanitar, corresponding secretary,
amen rooms, 150 Fifth avenue.

HOME TABLEAUX

...n the Very Little Ones Will Enjoy

The pretty custom of tableau acting could be encouraged among young children in the home. There is no other way of getting up an evening's amusement. And even children of eight and ten years of age can, with a little practice, conduct successful little entertainments.

"properties," consisting of all the clothes in the house, could be allocated to the winner at stipulation that they should be returned to their proper places when the performances were over. The home pictures, which would appeal to the audience, are always the best. No elaborate copying of well-known pictures is needed. "The Naughty Boy" is pictured as being caught in the act of breaking his sister's doll, "The Dirty Boy," getting his face smudged, could be vividly presented by any small brother and big sister, and would certainly bring down the

Watching the Baby" and "The Un-ling Errand-Boy" would be found ally realistic, and make great hits.
fact, the children's own imagina-s, once grasping the humor of the y, would suggest many a situation ich would be both novel and strikchildren can thoroughly appreciate on themselves. And if the grown ple were sometimes hit they would quite good tempered over it.—N. Y.

rid.

Ready to Learn.—How could you, be so mean as to swindle people and put confidence in you? Prisoner—Well, judge, I'll make it worth something to yer if you'll tell how to work them as don't.—Liz.

